ONE GREAT TRUCK LEADS TO ANOTHER.

Presenting the great new idea in full-size pickups: the 1988 Sierra from GMC Truck.

Sierra is a full-size pickup in the great GMC Truck tradition, with its roomy three-passenger cab. And it offers such advancements as electronic fuel injection on gas engines, a choice of standard V-6 or optional V-8 power, a standard rear-wheel anti-lock brake system (operates only in two-wheel drive), standard shift-on-the-fly Insta-Trac on 4 X 4s, and more.

THE ULTIMATE SPORT UTILITY FROM GMC TRUCK.

There's advanced thinking in our S-15 Jimmy, too, the kind that says a truly enjoyable sport utility is the one that's at home wherever you are.

With distinctive, sporty two-door styling, our Jimmy also offers a wide variety of plush interiors and amenities. Select a 4 X 4 model, and you can dress yours up and take it just about anywhere.

Where all this is leading to, of course, is a trip to your nearest GMC Truck dealer. Buckle up, then get a good look at the fine selection of 1988 GMC trucks. But be warned: once you've discovered just how great one GMC truck can be, your second (or third or fourth) is just about inevitable.

See your dealer for the terms and conditions of this limited powertrain warranty.

IT'S NOT JUST A TRUCK ANYMORE.

MAKING A NAME FOR ITSELF...

IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE.

AND IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY. The Echostar SRD-7000 makes home entertainment what it should be — easy. This advanced IRD comes equipped with a simplified remote control, but now offers you even more — an optional full-featured remote control. Both remotes are UHF, of course.

With two remote controls, program selection is twice as convenient.

At the touch of a button, UHF gives you complete command of the receiver, VideoCipher® II descrambler, and antenna positioner anywhere within its 200-foot range. And, unlike infrared, UHF gives you control from any room in your home.

An additional remote means push button control is never out of reach. So lean back and relax, as the Echostar SRD-7000 puts these features at your fingertips:

- Built-in VideoCipher® II descrambler
- Direct satellite and channel access
- Video Noise Reduction
- 10 favorite programs
- Parental lockout
- On-screen graphics
- Automatic C/Ku band selection
- Digital stereo

Introduce yourself to the SRD-7000 — the latest name in IRD's.

SUCCESS, AMERICAN STYLE

How do you get to the top in corporate America? Start in the mailroom, learn the company gossip, then move into an empty office and order people around. Michael J. Fox is the country boy who goes to the Big Apple and masquerades as an executive preoccupied with dodging unfriendly takeovers in The Secret of My Success on HBO (G1, 23). Helen Slater is the attractive junior executive he's trying to impress. Also on HBO this month is Burglar, a crime-comedy starring Whoopi Goldberg. Goldberg plays a former cat burglar who gets back into the business to help a dentist (Lesley Ann Warren) recover some stolen jewelry. Needless to say, mayhem ensues. Cinemax (G1, 19) is airing Ishtar with Dustin Hoffman and Warren Beatty as singer-songwriters hoping to break into the big time with a gig in North Africa. Check listings for the time and dates of all three movies.

Sunset in Indonesia on PBS'* Adventure *series.

INDONESIA, EXOTICA

Brothers Lorne and Lawrence Blair have spent the last 10 years sailing among the 13,000 islands of Indonesia on a schooner. The adventures of the two explorers are recorded in four new installments of PBS' Adventure series, narrated by actor Richard Gere. (Gere got involved in the project when he met the Blairs during a sojourn in Indonesia.) The program runs Mondays at 10:00 p.m. (W4, 17) beginning May 16. The first of these exotic adventures, "Ring of Fire: Spice Island Saga," features gypsy pirates, python hunters and the greater bird of paradise. Other episodes feature erupting volcanoes and primitive native tribes, including a group of head hunters still living in the Stone Age.

BEHIND ENEMY LINES

The Dirty Dozen is back! This time as a weekly series beginning Saturday, May 7 at 9:00 p.m. on Fox TV Network (T1, 14). The setting is World War II, a year before D-Day. Twelve young, handsome, hardened criminals are given a choice: take on risky missions behind enemy lines or face the death penalty at the infamous Marston-Tyne Military Prison. The new, one-hour dramatic series is shot on location in Yugoslavia and includes plenty of action and special effects. The Dirty Dozen promises to show a side of war that isn't usually portrayed in the never-never land of prime-time TV: the gruesome reality of war has not been glossed over. Some of the soldiers—perhaps even your favorite—will die in action during the course of the series.

WAILING WALL

Jan Scruggs returned from his tour of duty in Vietnam with a dream: to build a memorial to the Americans who fought and died there. It took 3½ years, $8.4 million and a lot of determination to make the dream a reality. Today it stands near the Lincoln Memorial grounds in Washington, D.C. The memorial, which has been called "America's Wailing Wall," is stunning in its simplicity—a V-shaped, black marble monument inscribed with the names of servicemen who lost their lives in Vietnam between 1959 and 1975. One of the country's most popular monuments, it draws Viet vets and family members who grieve for their loved ones. NBC's two-hour movie To Heal a Nation, based on a book of the same name, is the moving story of the struggles Jan Scruggs experienced in his effort to construct the monument. The program airs May 22 at 9:00 p.m. on F1, 8.

SINGING IN THE SADDLE

Gene Autry was known as "The Singing Cowboy," the resourceful, rough rider with the soft, melodious voice. Together with fellow film cowboys Roy Rogers and John Wayne, he helped shape the American myth of the Wild West. Autry started as a radio and recording celebrity, found fame in the movies of the 30s and 40s, and later went into the communications business. The Nashville Network (G1, 2) profiles him May 11 at 9:30

GLAMOR GIRL

Even if you've never heard of Merrill Markoe, chances are you're familiar with her work. As a writer for Late Night with David Letterman she created that favorite regular feature "Stupid Pet Tricks." Her wacky sense of humor comes through again in a Cinemax comedy experiment entitled Merrill Markoe's Guide to Glamorous Living, which includes tips on such topics as how to sweep into a room like Loretta Young and how to gracefully exit a limo if you're wearing a short skirt. There are cameo appearances by top comedians Elayne Boosler, Martin Mull, Andrea Martin, Garry Shandling, Harry Shearer and others. The program airs on Cinemax (G1, 19), check listings for time and date.

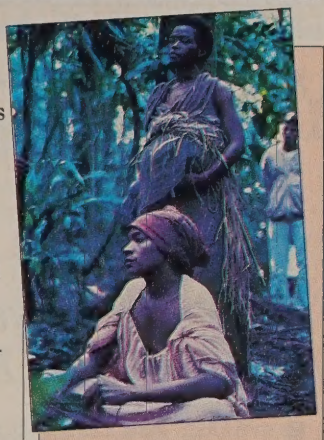
NATALIE WOOD

Natalie Wood, the doe-eyed beauty who played Maria in West Side Story, is profiled on PBS (W4, 17) May 25 at 10:00 p.m. in a one-hour special called Starring Natalie Wood. The program traces her life from child actress to leading lady to the tragic boating accident that killed her in 1981. It features film clips, home movies and interviews with people who knew her including Elizabeth Taylor, Elia Kazan, Bette Davis and Dyan Cannon. Also on PBS this month, Broadway performer Maureen McGovern, known for her hit The Morning After from the movie The Poseidon Adventure, performs songs from her new album Another Woman in Love.

Actress Natalie Wood died a tragic death.

BYE, BYE BRAZIL

The mystery, music and magic of Brazil is captured in the works of Brazilian film director Carlos Diegues. Three of his best-known movies are featured this month on Bravo's Great Director Series (F4, 2). Quilombo, which airs May 8 at 9:30 p.m., is based on the true story of a group of 17th century slaves who escaped and established a utopian country in the jungle. The utopian stronghold lasted nearly 100 years before it finally fell to government troops. Xica da Silva, on May 18 at 10 p.m., is about a beautiful slave who married a Portuguese diamond contractor and rose to become the most powerful woman in the region. Bye, Bye Brazil, May 18 at 8 p.m., portrays the erotic and earthy adventures of a traveling carnival troupe touring the interior of Brazil. All three films are in Portuguese with subtitles.



BRAVO

ANNA K.

Who better to play Anna Karenina, the proud, beautiful, doomed Russian aristocrat, than Jacqueline Bisset? Christopher Reeve, of Superman fame, is the perfect Vronsky, Anna's cool, cruel, handsome lover. On May 18 at 8:00 p.m., USA Network (G1, 21) shows this romantic made-for-TV movie about a strong-willed woman who risks the status and comfort of high society for the love of a man—and loses. ■

 BY MARK LONG

You Can Take It With You

Far from home, you can pick up thousands of shows in your RV, cabin or campsite.

Have Dish, Will Travel" is the latest slogan for recreational vehicle (RV) owners who insist on keeping up with their favorite shows or sporting events while hitting the road for the summer.

Now it's possible to enjoy the best that satellite TV has to offer, even while getting away from it all.

From the cool hills of northern Maine to the sizzling deserts of the Southwest, here are some of the ways travelers are going to get the best of both worlds on their vacations:

TRAVEL-SAT

The Travel-Sat package, distributed by A & E Systems of California, is a complete satellite TV system with a fully steerable 6½-foot dish for motor homes.

The lightweight antenna package weighs less than 80 pounds and adds just 18 inches to the height of most RVs. Colored in gold, silver or black, the antenna unit can be raised or retracted at the touch of a dial on the control head inside the RV.

Many motorists find the Travel-Sat package easy to operate because they don't have to park the RV in any special direction or even ensure that it is level. The system's controller has dual motor drives that allow the operator to select the elevation and azimuth coordinates for a satellite. But for full access to satellites, RV owners do need to select a parking spot that provides an unobstructed view of the southern horizon.

Travel-Sat's system can operate off of either 110 volts AC or 12 volts DC, an important feature for RV owners on the go. Most RV parks furnish a hook-up to 110-volt AC generators, and an RV can furnish power from its 12-volt DC batteries.

Many RV owners will opt for using batteries rather than run a noisy gas-powered generator that might disturb other vacationers. The Travel-Sat system can operate all night from a fully charged 12-volt car battery. RV owners do need a 12-volt TV in their RVs to take advantage of this feature, however.

Sitting in your RV, you can get more shows than homeowners nearby can get from cable.

TRAVEL-SAT

CONNECTING A VIDEOCIPHER

While an RV satellite system can be the answer to your summer viewing, there are a few important limitations—especially if a descrambler is to be connected. Each satellite transmits its signal in a particular shape, called a footprint, with the signals strongest at the center and diminishing in intensity at the edges.

To properly decode the incoming video and audio, the VideoCipher II descrambler needs to receive a fairly strong signal. Since the Travel-Sat system comes with just a 6½-foot C-band antenna, you may not be able to pick up all of the scrambled channels you'd expect along your route.

Because the VideoCipher II is an AC-powered device, you will need to power it using a portable AC generator, the AC hook-up provided at most RV parks or with an inverter, a special kind of electrical interface made especially for RVs. Inverters can convert the 12 volts DC supplied by an automobile battery to 110 volts AC. Heart Interface of Kent, Washington, manufactures a whole family of inverters that can run virtually any AC electrical device including

Thanks to on-screen graphics. And General Instrument's newest VideoCipher® II 2650R Integrated Receiver Descrambler (IRD).

Now locating satellites and channels is easier than ever.

"All I have to do is push a button on my remote and look at my television screen.

"Instantly I get the channel number and the name of the bird I'm watching. And, I can list up to 100 of my favorite channels, including the satellite.

"Pretty convenient, this on-screen graphics.

"In fact, it's so nice that I have an IRD for each of my TV sets. I can watch the shows I want from my room, while the kids watch theirs in another room.

"Of course on-screen graphics isn't the only feature I like.

"There's parental supervision. (For the grandkids, you know.) 100 channel recall. A better picture and great sounding stereo.

"And since my satellite system comes from General Instrument, I know I'm getting the best that money can buy.

"So do like I did, pay a visit to one of those friendly General Instrument dealers. Then you'll know what Bird you're watching too."

TV, RECEIVER COMBINED

Since space is often at a premium in motor homes, RV owners will appreciate the Dakotah, a compact all-in-one video entertainment system with both a satellite dish receiver and a VHF/UHF TV set. Manufactured by Anderson Scientific, the Dakotah is an AC-only unit that can be powered off of your motor home's AC generator, an inverter or the AC hookup at your favorite RV park. The Dakotah—compatible with the VideoCipher II descrambler—features on-screen electronic tuning of TV signals and allows the operator to designate "favorite" satellite or terrestrial TV channels. Videophiles will like the Dakotah's double use as a full-fledged 13-inch video monitor that can display crystal-clear video signals from VCRs, video cameras, and video games.

When you are not on the road, the Dakotah can serve as an additional streamlined TV center for a bedroom or den. Or grab the unit by its handle and place it out by the pool or patio for a great summer afternoon's entertainment. Local TV signals can be picked up by the Dakotah's set of "rabbit ears," and C/Ku-band satellite TV channels can be received by connecting the Dakotah to a satellite antenna and LNB.

A DISH FOR YOUR TENT

If you want a satellite TV system for your remote cabin or campsite, consider Anderson Scientific's 2010 receiver, powered by 12-volt batteries. It is so efficient that it consumes less power than an automobile taillight bulb when operated off of a 12-volt battery. When connected to RCA's 12-volt DC Video Power Pack, the Anderson 2010 can operate for up to 11 straight hours on a single charge. The battery pack can be recharged at the nearest AC source. Another alternative: add a small solar electric panel for less than $80 and let the summer sun power your portable satellite TV system for you.

A LIGHTWEIGHT DISH

No portable satellite TV system is complete without a compact, lightweight antenna that can be installed easily on a temporary basis. Vacationers will appreciate DH Satellite's 32-inch, 36-inch, 39-inch and 48-inch dishes because they can be quickly broken down into a compact package to be stored in the trunk, on a rooftop carrier, or even taken as excess baggage on an airplane. Although the 48-inch model is the smallest practical unit for receiving many of the unscrambled C-band satellite signals, the 32-inch, 36-inch and 39-inch units can be used to receive a dozen or more Ku-band TV channels from either the Anik C or Satcom K satellites. Many satellite connoisseurs believe that a one-piece spun-aluminum antenna is just about the finest satellite dish that money can buy.

Highly accurate manufacturing methods ensure that the antennas conform to a true parabolic curve, providing the most bang for the buck. ■

Our Readers Write

Q. We are a family living in very remote Alaska. Our electricity comes from a 5 kilowatt generator. Needless to say, we do not have electricity at all times. We have had a VideoCipher II hooked to our satellite system for the past two years and we are concerned about the unit's internal battery. Since we only switch our generator on when we really need it, the unit is totally unpowered for long stretches of time. What can we do when this battery finally runs out of juice?

A. The VideoCipher II's internal lithium battery supplies emergency power to the circuits holding the hidden "keys" required for program decryption. This battery is active only when the descrambler has been unplugged from its AC power source or during an AC power failure. Although the lithium battery should protect the VideoCipher's hidden keys for ten years under "normal" operations, the shelf life of the descrambler is only about two to three years if left in an unpowered state.

Once the battery has been completely discharged, the hidden keys required for program decryption are forever erased from the unit's Random Access Memory (RAM) chips. To return the descrambler to normal operation, these keys must be reinserted back into the RAM chips. This means shipping your unit to the General Instrument service center.

Since you only use your AC generator sporadically, your VideoCipher II could very well face an early demise unless something is done to prevent battery drain.

We recommend that you use a special electrical appliance called an inverter to power your VideoCipher II descrambler when your AC generator is switched off. For additional information on inverters, see the article "You Can Take It With You" on page 6.

BRAD VELEY

Alaskan dish owners can have unique problems.

Q. I read in ORBIT that Major League Baseball will scramble its backhaul feeds using the VideoCipher I (VC I) system instead of the VideoCipher II (VC II). Is there any way that I could buy a VC I and get it authorized to watch my favorite games?

A. So far, the VideoCipher I encryption system is available for commercial applications only. Even if a consumer version of the VideoCipher I were available, Major League Baseball intends to authorize only bona fide local, regional or national broadcasters to receive their backhaul feeds. Baseball executives have, however, been talking with several organizations about developing a package of baseball games that would be scrambled and offered to home dish owners equipped with the VideoCipher II descrambler. With any luck, such a package would be available in the near future.

In the meantime, the various regional sports networks will continue to transmit hundreds of major league baseball games in the clear. Additionally, home dish owners subscribing to Superstations TBS, WWOR, KTVT, WGN and WPIX will have access to hundreds of additional baseball games this season. Two brand new Superstations—one from Boston (WSBK) and the other from Los Angeles (KTLA)—will also carry 75 Boston Red Sox and 50 California Angels baseball games via Satcom F1R, transponders 5 and 16. So your satellite dish will continue to provide you with unparalleled access to all the drama and excitement of this year's pennant races.

Q. I have decided not to buy a satellite dish until technology and the marketplace put TV programs from London, Paris, Frankfurt, Moscow and Rome within my reach. How long will I have to wait?

A. The future is now! Every satellite dish owner in North America can already receive television programming from Europe, Asia and South America. This year, for example, educators began transmitting a variety of foreign news programs in their original languages via Telstar 302, transponder 24 from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. (ET) on weekdays. This educational service, called SCOLA for "Satellite Communications for Learning," is a non-profit consortium of colleges and universities based in Omaha, Nebraska, that distributes international TV programs to participating institutions. The countries represented in a typical week of SCOLA broadcasts include: the United Kingdom, West Germany, France, Norway, Sweden, India, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Niger, Nigeria, Zaire, Libya, Iran, Israel, Saudi Arabia, Turkey, Sri Lanka, the Soviet Union, Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, China, Japan, Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Mexico, Peru, and Venezuela.

Dish owners who prefer an English-language audio track with foreign TV shows can tune to Galaxy 1, transponder 7 on Sundays at midnight (ET) for the "CNN World Report." In a real first for electronic journalism, CNN has invited countries around the world to contribute to this open-ended, weekly telecast in which overseas television organizations prepare reports on topics of interest in their respective countries. A typical Sunday program begins with the latest international news from United Nations headquarters in New York, followed by clips from individual nations. Participating countries include Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Nicaragua, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland, the Soviet Union, Finland, Greece, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, Zimbabwe, Turkey, Afghanistan, People's Republic of China, Japan, North Korea, Taiwan, Vietnam and New Zealand.

If you're looking for the best in foreign films, the International Television Network (ITN) provides an eight-hour transmission each morning from 12:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. (ET) via Westar 4, transponder 19. Cinematic productions from France, Germany, Spain, Japan, China, Brazil and Eastern Europe are featured. The films are either dubbed into English or provide English subtitles.

Since North American satellites serve as intermediate relay stations in the transmission of programs from one part of the world to another, foreign programs can often be found on a transponder that carries standard American fare. Regular feeds of the RAI News from Italy, for example, appear on the Satcom F2R satellite. For a list of foreign services and where to find them, check "Where To Find Satellite TV Services" in ORBIT's programming guide.

Q. After junking my old receiver because it wouldn't work with the VideoCipher II descrambler, I recently tried to hook up a Chaparral LNF, a DX DSB 800 receiver and a VideoCipher II 2100 descrambler to my 16-foot dish. But I couldn't get a picture. Someone told me to substitute a Chaparral Polarotor 1E, a Norsat 65-degree LNA and a DX DSB 60 downconverter for the LNF. At the last minute I added a 20 dB line amplifier and immediately got a good picture. Why wouldn't the Chaparral LNF work with my system?

A. While both the Chaparral and DX receivers employ downconverters that transform the entire satellite band down to a block of frequencies that contain all satellite TV channels of a single polarity, different non-compatible conversion techniques are used by each manufacturer. If a Chaparral LNF is inadvertently connected to a DX receiver or a DX downconverter is hooked to a Chaparral receiver, all available video signals will be inverted into a kind of negative image, the normal order of the channels is reversed, and a few of the channels will not be received at all. ■

Boo On ABC's Winter Olympics

ABC's handling of the 1988 Winter Olympics was a complete fiasco, a disaster. The broadcast included long, interminable commercials, a blank screen that lasted for minutes and events that happened 40 years ago. Can we expect more of the same for the Summer Olympics?

Highlighting Prime Time

I would like to see the prime-time highlights page closer to prime time in ORBIT's TV listings. In some issues, the highlights are placed next to the afternoon listings. It would be better to have them at the beginning of prime time.

Whom To Vote For

I have yet to see and hear a complete debate between the presidential candidates. The satellite TV programs seem to cover everything from cooking to wrestling. Why not complete coverage of something as important as our next president? I can both cook and wrestle. I just don't know whom to vote for.

THE CAR THAT MADE JAGUAR

The introduction of the Jaguar SS-100 in 1938 brought instant fame to the Jaguar name. And the first 100 mph Jaguar was as refined as it was fast—forever redefining what a sports car could be. Now re-created by Franklin Mint Precision Models with the cooperation of Jaguar Cars, Ltd.

It's an imported die-cast model built by hand with 123 hand-assembled parts. With seats that "give." Hood and doors that open and close. Steering and road wheels that actually turn. Painted in rich hand-polished Jaguar ivory, with chrome-finished trim. $90.

Bobby Allison's Chase for the Million-Dollar Bounty

Three big stock-car races are coming in May, and all can be picked up on a dish.

Poets call April "the cruelest month," but NASCAR race drivers know better. May is the time for two of the biggest races of the season—the Winston 500 and the Coca-Cola 600.

No one knows the urgency of winning in May more than racing veteran Bobby Allison, who at 50 is the oldest NASCAR competitor to win a Winston Cup event. And by winning the Daytona 500 last Valentine's Day, racing fans everywhere conjectured whether or not Allison could win the million-dollar bonus offered by the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

This $1 million bounty goes to any driver who can score three victories at the four biggest NASCAR events. If the Daytona 500 is the Super Bowl of stock car racing, the Winston 500 at Talladega, Alabama on May 1 is the World Series. The Coca-Cola 600 at Charlotte, North Carolina on May 29 is the longest track Allison will run on all year, and the Southern 500 at Darlington in South Carolina on September 4 is perhaps the most treacherous of all tracks, resembling a demolition derby at race's end.

IT'S ONLY BEEN DONE ONCE

Should Bobby Allison win the $1 million purse, he would be the second man to win NASCAR's ultimate prize, matching only Bill Elliott in 1985. As a matter of pride, Elliott hopes to single-handedly defuse Allison's chances of matching his winning streak. To win the Winston 500 in 1985, Elliot set an international 500-mile closed-court speed record of 188.288 mph. He qualified for the pole position in the 1987 Winston 500 with 212.809 mph.

Elliott is not the only driver hoping to show disrespect for Allison's venerable age. Allison also fears the likes of Dale Earnhardt, Winston Cup NASCAR Champion in both 1986 and 1987, Darrell Waltrip, the 1985 champ, and his own son, Davey Allison, who finished second at Daytona this year.

FINISHING ONE-TWO AGAIN?

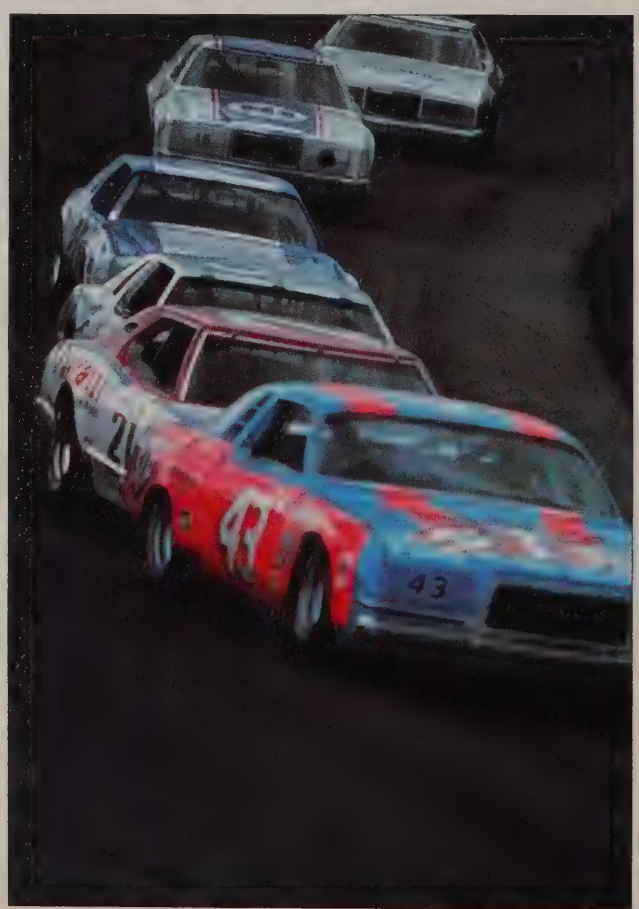
"I was thrilled to win the Daytona 500 for the third time, but to look in the rear-view mirror and see Davey was another thrill," exults the silver-haired Allison. "It was a thrill for the whole family when we finished one-two. We'd like to do that 28 more times this year."

Twenty-seven-year-old Davey Allison has won $540,000 since joining the NASCAR Winston Cup Circuit. Last year, in only his 14th start, he upstaged Papa by winning both the Winston 500 and the Budweiser 500. He is the first rookie to win two Winston Cup races.

In the Coca-Cola 600, another son of a world-famous driver may be the man Allison will have to beat. Kyle Petty, son of the famous Richard Petty, won last year's 600 in the first super speedway win of his career. When not breaking records on the track, young Petty makes them in recording studios. In his spare time, he opens concerts for country music headliners and has performed live on Nashville Now.

EARNHARDT HAS BEST CHANCE

Realistically, however, the 36-year-old Earnhardt is the racer most likely to ruin Allison's million-dollar chase. The North Carolina resident last year was named Driver of the Year by the National Motorsports Press Convention, entitling him to the $30,000 Richard Petty Trophy, just a small part of the $650,000 in bonuses he received for winning the



ESPN

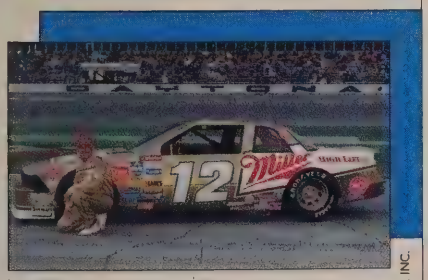
The fastest cars and drivers will be ready to roll on May 1 for the Winston 500.

1987 Winston Cup championship.

Earnhardt's barracuda-like style of racing has won him more fans than friends. Fellow NASCAR drivers say he doesn't hesitate to play bumper tag with fellow drivers. By the end of a race, the many scrapes and abrasions on Earnhardt's blue-and-yellow Monte Carlo make it look like he parked it on a lower Manhattan sidestreet overnight. His philosophy toward space on a track tends to be "What's mine is mine, and what's yours is mine, too."

Earnhardt's career winnings now total in excess of $7 million, and he hopes to surpass all-time money winner Darrell Waltrip's $8 million total at the end of the current racing season. Allison, with $6.9 million in earnings, would himself hold that title should he win the $1 million bounty to go with his other 1988 prize moneys.

But Allison insists that victories mean more to him than the checks he takes back to his home in Hueytown, Alabama. "My main motivation is winning—period," he says. "The money comes with winning, but I'm going to drive just as hard down the line for a hundred dollars or a million."



R. J. REYNOLDS, INC.

Veteran racer Bobby Allison

Allison's car for both the Winston 500 and Coca-Cola 600 is a 1987 Buick Regal, which is powered by a General Motors V-8 engine. It's supported by a hand-built chassis and heavy duty components underneath. Donnie Johnson, Allison's shop manager, predicts that Allison will set record lap times in both events. "With the tires getting better every race, you're likely to see the speeds escalate a bit," he says. Top speeds in the Buick Regal have already exceeded 200 mph. Allison's best opportunity to set NASCAR speed records will be at Talladega, reputed to be the fastest track in the sport.

ALL SPORT PHOTOGRAPHY, USA / MIKE POWELL

Bill Elliott took the 1985 Winston 500 when he set an international speed record.

CAR GOES AIRBORNE

Allison's biggest mental challenge this month comes in the Winston 500. In last year's race, his Buick was involved in a terrifying crash. "His car became airborne, climbed the fence guarding the front grandstand and vaulted back onto the track where he was hit by several other cars," recalls Bob Moore, a spokesman for R.J. Reynolds.

But Allison walked away unhurt. And his supporters say the racer's age had nothing to do with the disaster. "He'll race as long as he's competitive, whether that be 55, 60 or 70," insists Donnie Johnson. "He wants to win as many races on the Winston Cup circuit as Richard Petty won. That's his ultimate goal."

Thus, with three of the biggest NASCAR races on television this month, racing fans are in for a million thrills. And when all the dust settles, Bobby Allison will know if he has one million reasons of his own to choose May as April's replacement for the kindest or cruelest month. ■

Penske Goes For 7th Indy Win

The Indianapolis 500 is the biggest race in the world—period," exults driver Danny Sullivan, winner of the 1985 Indy 500 and a crowd favorite to repeat in 1988. "Winning Indy made everything I had worked for and dreamed of worthwhile. You can feel the tension on race morning. You can taste it."

Sullivan is the most colorful member of the Penske Racing team, which this year celebrates its 20th anniversary run at the Indy 500. The Penske team arrived at the famed track in 1969, revolutionizing the sport by its attention to detail and preparation on the track, as well as to high-power business marketing off it.

In 1973, a shiny Penske car won the Indy 500 for the first time. Since then, the team has won five more times for a record six Indianapolis 500 wins. But last year, because his Penske-designed car turned out to be a world class bust, Sullivan suffered a miserable year. He finished 13th in the 500, deep in the pack behind winning driver Al Unser Sr., a Penske teammate, and switched to his year-old back-up car to salvage six top-five finishes in his last nine races.

"Last season was very difficult for me," admits Sullivan, who this year plans to drive an experimental Chevy engine-powered car called the PC-17. "I had won at least two races in each of my previous seasons, and it was very tough not to win a race. But we were persistent, and we stayed together as a team. I'm anxious to win this Indy race and taste the high life again." ■

PUPPY LOVE

An American childhood just wouldn't be complete without watching Walt Disney's classic of animation, Lady and the Tramp. The movie, made in 1955, is the tale of Lady, a pedigreed pooch who feels abandoned after the birth of a baby into her master's family. So she takes off on her own. She is befriended by Tramp, a rakish street dog who lives by his wits. Together they have adventures aplenty, including a brush with a brutish dog catcher and a romantic spaghetti dinner from the kitchen of an Italian restaurant. It's on The Disney Channel (G1, 4) May 7 at 7:00 p.m.

MAGIC CAVE

Rabbit and Hack, two Indian boys from the Canadian north, live in the quiet community of Spirit Bay. Their world is one of trapping cabins, fishing boats, freezing winter storms and quiet summer afternoons in the spectacular Canadian wilderness. In Water Magic, they embark on a treacherous journey to find a secret cave. There, Rabbit and Hack hope to find the magic power that will enable them to break a jinx that has fallen over them, causing fishing nets to come up torn and empty. It's a trip fraught with danger during which Hack nearly drowns. The program, airing on Nickelodeon (G3, 19) May 15 at 3:00 p.m., is part of the Spirit Bay Adventure Series.

GOOFY GERBERT

He's cute, he's funny, he's spontaneous and endearing. He's Gerbert the puppet, star of the new children's show on CBN. Gerbert, a childlike fellow who wears a hat, is geared to kids ages two to eight. He's got his own little house, his own room, and lots of human friends including an adult named Miles and children who visit the set. Gerbert and friends go on outings to places like a dairy farm, where the kids learn how milk gets from the cow to the grocery store. Gerbert's producer and director David Freyss also worked on the award-winning children's show Sesame Street. Gerbert premieres Sunday, May 1 at 8:30 p.m. and airs regularly on Saturdays starting May 7 at 9 a.m. on CBN (G1, 11).

How do you say Big Bird in Chinese? Big Bird from Sesame Street and his canine sidekick Barkley go on a goodwill tour to mainland China. There, accompanied by a young Chinese boy, they search for a legandary Chinese bird, the Phoenix, which Big Bird once saw on a scroll in Chinatown. The group tours such famous landmarks as the Great Wall and the Ming Tombs. They even visit Chinese children in their homes and schools. Big Bird in China premieres May 14 and airs Saturdays on The Disney Channel (G1, 4) at 7:00 p.m.

GREAT WHITE WHALE

Moby Dick is the mythic story by Herman Melville about a great white whale and peg-legged Captain Ahab, the seafaring man obsessed with finding the whale. In Nickelodeon's animated version of this classic American tale, Captain Ahab takes his crew around the world—and through many dangers—in pursuit of the elusive Moby Dick. The program airs May 8 at 2:00 p.m. on G3, 19. ■

TV'S SUPERMOMS

The Women Behind the Role Models

The moms on television used to stay in the kitchen, bake brownies and dry tears. Jane Wyatt never questioned that Father Knows Best. When it came to adventure in the outside world, Barbara Billingsley was happy to Leave It To Beaver. And in one scheme after another, Lucy sneaked out of the house and onto the stage only to end up back home in a shambles of tears, smeared lipstick and hair askew.

When NBC's Family Ties went on the air in 1982, it signaled the return of the traditional family series, but with a major difference. Mom was still seen most often at home, but we knew she had a full-time job outside the home. And a great job at that. Today's TV moms are super-moms who have great jobs, great husbands, great kids and even, if we are to surmise from the looks on the faces of parents like Clair and Cliff Huxtable in the Cosby Show, great sex.

The idealized working mom is television's way of acknowledging that many women in the workforce are also mothers. And that includes actresses. For without exception, the women who play TV's supermoms are moms themselves. Are these actresses anything like the supermoms they portray? For some actresses, real life is strikingly similar in appearance to the TV version.

BEAUTIFUL, BLOND ARCHITECT

As Elyse Keaton on Family Ties, beautiful, blond Meredith Baxter Birney plays an architect, contented wife and mom to four. Also a mother with a glamor job, Baxter Birney has a handsome husband, actor David Birney, and five children. She's "a lot like" her character, she says cheerfully. That is, spirited, athletic (she runs 60 miles a week), competent and fertile.

Even the ages of Baxter Birney's on- and off-screen children are close. She has two from her first marriage, Ted, 20, and Eva, 18. She also has Kate, 13, and twins Peter and Mollie now three and a half, from her marriage to David Birney. TV's Keaton kids range from college age to a teenager down to four-year-old Andrew, who was born during a snowstorm in a cliffhanger two-parter. That was no stomach padding, by the way. Baxter Birney was pregnant at the time with the twins.

Baxter Birney is the first to admit that Family Ties projects an idealized view of the traditional '80s family. Elyse Keaton, who never looks

LIFETIME

In days gone by, the park bench was the place where new mothers learned the ins and outs of child raising from their more experienced friends. Now, moms and dads get their baby-care tips from books, their doctor and TV.

Such parenting programs as Mother's Day, Motherworks and What Every Baby Knows on Lifetime (F3, 17) are well done, informative shows with real parents and their kids instead of the idealized families so prevalent on network sitcoms.

In Motherworks, host Cyndy Garvey tries to explode the myth of supermom. According to Garvey, women are too often portrayed as high-level executives with household help and no financial worries. "The average working woman spends half or more of her paycheck on child care," says Garvey. "Women who make really good salaries juggle more psychological problems than economic ones."

Motherworks focuses on women who are trying to balance their children and their work, whether it's an 8 to 5 job, a home, business or another arrangement.

Garvey herself has been both a married and a single working mom. When her 10-year marriage to former baseball star Steve Garvey ended seven years ago, she became the single mother of two girls, now aged 11 and 13. Garvey says she depends on a network of 10 friends who help each other out.

If Supermom did exist, her name would be Joan Lunden, who hosts Mother's Day as well as co-anchoring Good Morning America and co-authoring a daily newspaper column on parenting with her husband, Michael Krauss. Lunden knows a lot about juggling schedules and sharing parent responsibilities. She and Krauss, who created and produce Mother's Day, take turns spending time with both the baby, Sarah, born last July, and their two older girls, Jamie and Lindsay.

On Mother's Day, Lunden's guests frequently include stars and experts she has interviewed for ABC News. Joe Namath, for example, may drop by with his infant daughter, Jessica. Valerie Harper and Henry Kissinger have shared their experiences as kids.

The third Lifetime parenting show, What Every Baby Knows, is hosted by Dr. T. Berry Brazelton, who is the pediatrician's Marcus Welby. He's sensitive, funny and concerned and the kids love him. His in-depth stories on parent and child are poignantly done. Whether the subject is the death of a parent or choosing day care, the tone is always sensitive and sane.

tired, is, Birney believes, both role model and escape hatch for struggling working mothers. Elyse is the kind of mom that working women fantasize about being, and therein lies her appeal.

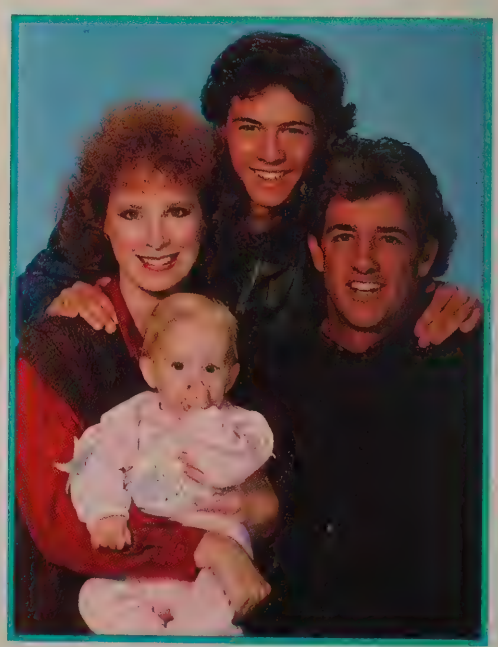
All working moms, says Baxter Birney, must juggle career and family. Some do it with more success than others. Baxter Birney herself seems to manage effortlessly both on and off screen. She's up and running at 5:40 each morning, returning in time to get the children breakfast and Kate off to school before she leaves for the studio at 9:15. Home at 7, she keeps "rolling" through dinner and Kate's homework. Bedtime? About 11 p.m.

Husband David Birney, as a stage actor, is frequently away from home. The Birneys make up for such absences with intense family time during hiatuses from Family Ties. On one such vacation, a sailing trip in the Caribbean, the Birneys read chapters of Treasure Island to the kids each night.

Still, Baxter Birney claims there is never enough time for family togetherness. Her idea of a "dream life for myself" would be to continue working, "but not as much as a series requires," and to spend more time at home. "I like work, I like acting and I'd be greatly disappointed if I weren't acting anymore, but that's not what defines me. It's not what makes me tick."

KIDS ARE HER JOB

Linda Kelsey, who plays the supermom in NBC's new sitcom Day by Day, has found yet another way to juggle her career and motherhood. On TV, Kelsey is a mother who has left her job to run, with her husband, a day care center in their home. The couple has a teen-aged son and baby daughter.



NBC

▶ Linda Kelsey with her Day By Day family.

Kelsey says she can meet the demands of a TV series because the producers "have arranged the hours to accommodate a working mother." Kelsey also brings her four-year-old daughter Sophie to work on the day the show is taped. And while nursing her youngest daughter Margit, Kelsey brought the baby and full-time nanny to work with her on the set.

Despite a near ideal work situation, Kelsey says, "it is not without pain. I love being an actress and I love being a mother. But I don't believe you can have it all."

HARDER THAN IT LOOKS

Joanna Kerns, the actress in ABC's Growing Pains, would agree. Like the mom she portrays, Kerns wants both career and family but thinks that achieving supermom status is a lot harder than it looks. In real life, Kerns is the divorced mother of Ashley, 8. On TV, she plays Maggie Seaver, mother of Mike, 17, Carol, 16 and Ben, 11. The sitcom's premise is that the husband, Jason (Alan Thicke), has moved his psychiatric practice into their home so that his wife can go back to work after 15 years as a homebody.

It was Kerns' idea to encourage the Growing Pains writers not to make Maggie "too perfect," to endow her with a layer of guilt. "Every working mother feels guilty," says Kerns. In some episodes, Maggie squirms when the kids complain because she's no longer a full-time mom.

Kerns says that since she's been Maggie Seaver and her career has blossomed, she's "happier, more fulfilled, and a better mother." At the same time she realizes that family, not career, is most important in her own life. "I don't try to do it all anymore." She just tries to do the best she can.

MOTHER AND LAWYER

Phylicia Rashad, who plays Clair Huxtable on The Cosby Show, would seem to have it all. On The Cosby Show, Rashad portrays a cool, controlled, amused and sometimes controlling mother of five—and a partner in a prestigious law firm. Although she's not often seen at the office, evidence of her legal prowess is occasionally worked into an episode. In one instance, Clair convenes a family court to get Theo to tell the truth, the whole truth

'I love being an actress and I love being a mother. But I don't believe you can have it all.'

We Remember Mama
Famous TV mothers of the past

Lucy Ricardo

Fated to remain a housewife, Lucy tried to fight her way out of the house every week with hilarious ingenuity in I Love Lucy. The sitcom aired from 1951 to 1961, and has been seen in syndication ever since. Lucille Ball and real-life husband Desi Arnaz starred as Lucy and Ricky Ricardo. In 1953, their real-life son was born and became Little Ricky on the show.

Harriet Nelson

Mother knew best on The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet, which debuted in 1952. This gentle sitcom ran for 14 years and reflected the traditional middle-class family of its era. The entire Nelson family, including sons Ricky and David, played themselves on the show. Harriet, who had sung in Ozzie's band, settled in as full-time Mom. As Ozzie was a bit fuzzy, Harriet reigned.

Donna Stone

The Donna Reed Show, which ran from 1958 to 1966, depicted a small-town, traditional family. Reed played the wife of a busy pediatrician and mother to two teenagers whose mild escapades reflected, to a degree, the experience of middle-class suburban counterparts. As the kids went off to college, this stay-at-home mom was quickly equipped with an orphan girl, 8, to keep her busy.

Margaret Anderson

Jane Wyatt played mom in Father Knows Best, which ran from 1954 to 1963. As Margaret Anderson, wife of insurance agent Jim (Robert Young), she shared in the raising of Princess, Bud and youngest daughter Kitten. Mom could act unilaterally on soothing minor family ills. And she was a decision-making partner on heavy-duty problems. But Father was designated counselor to the kids.

June Cleaver

Unlike most family sitcoms, then and now, Leave It To Beaver was focused on a son. The show aired from 1957, when Beaver Cleaver was 7, to 1963. As June Cleaver, Beaver's mom, Barbara Billingsley presided in the kitchen, where she listened good-humoredly to tales of the escapades of Beaver and his pals.

Edith Bunker

In the 1970's, All in the Family shattered the calm of the happy TV family with its bigoted, autocratic father, Archie Bunker. Not only was mom still relegated to the kitchen in the an era of feminism, but Edith—played by Jean Stapleton—was verbally abused by her husband. Despite her own conviction that "a woman's place is in the home," Edith persevered and became her own woman. ■ and nothing but the truth about one of his exploits.

Rashad, who is married to NBC sportscaster Ahmad Rashad, has a teen-aged son Billy by her first marriage and a baby daughter, Condola Phylea Rashad. When she returned to the set after having her baby, she found that Bill Cosby had equipped her dressing room with a bassinet. She put it to good use as she nursed Condola Phylea for four months.

MOM IS A COP

Not all television supermoms are in traditional family shows. Tyne Daly plays cop-wife-mother Mary Beth Lacey in Cagney and Lacey, a series that focuses on two policewomen. Mary Beth has a demanding job, a devoted husband and three children. She has also confronted breast cancer, abortion and child abuse in what is unquestionably the most realistic portrayal of a working mother's problems on series television. In real life, Daly has been married to actor/director Georg Stanford Brown for 21 years and has three children, the youngest of which is three.

DESIGNING MOTHER

Another show, CBS' Designing Women, also features a supermom outside the traditional family setting. Annie Potts, who plays Mary Jo Shively, the single mother of a seven-year-old boy and fourteen-year-old girl, is herself the single mother of Clay, seven. On Designing Women, Mary Jo makes the occasional reference to her kids but emphasis is on her independence as a member of an interior design team.

Off-screen, however, real-life mom Annie Potts says she's often frazzled and fragmented. She feels "like I'm on duty in three arenas from 7 in the morning until 11 at night. By the time I rush home from work, it's homework, dinner, bath, arrangements for following day, storytime, bedtime, three glasses of water. Then the dog poops on the floor. Then I sit down to work on my script. Then I pass out at 12 or 1 o'clock."

Of all these actresses, Annie Potts probably comes closest to the average working mom in need of the fantasy provided by television supermoms. Ironically, she doesn't have time to watch television. ■

AMBERVISION™
REVOLUTIONIZES EYEWEAR

High Technology Disguised As High Fashion

Don't be fooled by the appearance of these glasses! These are not ordinary sunglasses. They may look like high fashion sunglasses (in fact, they are designed after some of the most expensive brand names on the market today — e.g. Porsche™, Carrera™, etc.) — but are actually the latest breakthrough in sunglass technology. Ambervision's™ scientific design filters out blue and ultraviolet portions of the light spectrum that have been proven to be harmful to your eyes. By filtering out these dangerous rays, not only are your eyes protected from damage, but your vision is enhanced to a new level of perceptual eyesight!

A New World Through New Eyes

Just imagine what it would be like to look through glasses that make the world seem sharper, more vibrant, more alive and more cheerful. Slip on a pair of these sleek designer sunglass "look alikes" and you'll notice a marked improvement in your vision. The world will seem so crisp, so clear, that you'll feel as if someone had just given you a new set of eyes. This vision enhancement experience is so incredibly phenomenal that you literally "won't believe your eyes!" Thousands of professional golfers, hunters, and skiers have already discovered and reaped the benefits of these indispensable Super-Glasses — now you too can experience the excitement of ENHANCED EYESIGHT!

What About Sunglasses

The unbelievable truth is that ORDINARY sunglasses may be dangerous to your eyes. Everybody knows that your eyes automatically adjust to light. When you wear plain darkened lenses, your pupils open wider to adjust for darkness — but this becomes harmful because your eyes are now letting MORE dangerous UV rays in.

Ambervision™ lenses are gradiated to help shield against overhead light. These glasses are made with one of the finest lens materials available for sunglasses — cast in CR-39™ with UV400 protection, even an optometrist would be impressed! The lightweight frames are designed for ultra comfortable wear and tear and the molded nose rest is designed to rest comfortably on your nose. The hinge design of these frames allows them to be the perfect "one size fits all" eyeglasses. BONUS ... Your "Super-Glasses" even come complete with a luxurious black suede-like protective pouch. No wonder these are the most popular and fastest selling sunglasses ever sold by this giant new home shopping club!

These Ambervision™ Super-Glasses will not be sold to any wholesalers, dealers, or retailers at this price. They are only available through this special publicity campaign for a limited time. There is a limit of two (2) pairs per address at this price, but requests that are mailed early enough (before June 5) may request up to five. Each pair of Super-Glasses is covered by a full one year money back guarantee.

READ THIS
Please do not be misled by imitations. Ambervision's™ are the only glasses of this type that have been proven SUPERIOR to the famous BluBlockers™ (that sell for many times our price) by an independent lab. Nobody else can make this claim. You shouldn't trust your valuable eyesight to anything less than the best!

TRX-80/TRX-100
Integrated Receiver Descramblers

Satellite Receivers That Are Worlds Above The Rest

Satellite TV is all about freedom of choice. So why should your freedom be restricted when it comes to choosing the satellite receiver that best suits your needs? Now Toshiba gives you a choice. With the TRX-80 and the TRX-100. Two sleek, sophisticated receivers with attractively styled controls and display panels that will really dazzle you.

Of course, appearances aren't everything. It's what's inside that really counts. And these receivers have got everything it takes for superb, trouble-free satellite reception. Like a built-in VideoCipher® II descrambler for subscription satellite program reception. Built-in automatic antenna controller and actuator power drive circuit to give you complete control over your dish. C and Ku band compatibility. Matrix and discrete stereo (plus digital in the VC mode). Dialog-type on-screen displays. Direct channel access. Up/down channel scanning. Parental control. And a convenient, full-function wireless infrared remote control for simple operation from the comfort of your chair.

You also get an impressive memory capacity that not only lets you store numerous satellite positions, but lets you preset up to 20 Favorite Channels. The receiver will automatically position the antenna, tune in to the transponder, and select polarization, audio frequency and audio mode. All you have to do is choose the channel.

So for satellite TV reception that's worlds above anything else, choose between the satellite receivers that are worlds above the rest. The TRX-80 and the TRX-100. Technology so advanced, it's simple. Encounter the difference. Encounter Toshiba.

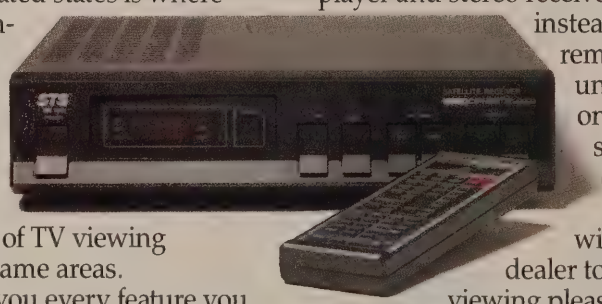
"Personally, I like the small places and the sparsely populated states."

Will Rogers was talking about the America STS knows and loves best. That's because out in those small places and sparsely populated states is where most of our STS satellite TV components and systems are being used and enjoyed the most.

Our latest product, the STS SR 100 Integrated Receiver/Descrambler with its optional Smart Remote™ Programmable Controller, promises new levels of TV viewing pleasure to customers in these same areas.

The STS SR 100 IRD offers you every feature you want, all in one box. Built-in VideoCipher® II descrambler. Fully preprogrammed audio and video, including subcarriers. Recall of up to 34 favorite channels. Parental lockout of satellites, channels or both. Full on-screen graphics, complete stereo capability, and a memory that stores up to 54 satellite positions.

Our new Smart Remote is a full function remote that lets you do with one unit what it takes all your other infrared remote units combined to accomplish. It gives you control over your TV, VCR, compact disc player and stereo receiver, regardless of brand. So instead of two, three, four or more remote units that only get lost under the papers and books on the coffee table, you have a single control unit for everything.



See the new STS SR 100 with Smart Remote at your STS dealer today. You won't know what viewing pleasure and enjoyment you'll get with the STS SR 100 till you start using it.

THE INCREDIBLE SHRINKING MAN

It's not important how the scientist played by Grant Williams came to be The Incredible Shrinking Man. What is important is how Williams accepts his fate and adjusts to his changing environment.

This 1957 science-fiction classic has finally been released on videocassette. The video image is sharp and the special effects—from Williams' slow vanish into the furniture to his climactic hand-to-hand combat with a spider—are expert.

But what really distinguishes this sci-fi great is the screenwriting. Richard Matheson, who would later write for the intelligent Outer Limits series for TV, confronts such cosmic concerns as man's domination over man, his neglected instinct for survival, even his quest for life's meaning. And there is a scene involving a giant cat that will change the way you feel about your pet kitty.

See this one with your kids. It might change the way they view modern science-fiction movies.

The Incredible Shrinking Man,* (B&W), MCA/Universal, $29.95.

UNIVERSAL CITY STUDIOS

Grant Williams is a modern-day Gulliver in* The Incredible Shrinking Man.

THE WITCHES OF EASTWICK

How could a film with this pedigree miss being a hit? You've got the director—George Miller—of the Mad Max series making a film based on a novel by John Updike. You've got John Williams composing the music. You have Cher, Susan Sarandon and Michele Pfeiffer playing the leads. And you have the one and only Jack Nicholson playing the devil.

This talented crew does indeed concoct a terrific film. The Witches of Eastwick is a modern-day fantasy in which three women, utterly bored with life in their Norman Rockwell-ish small town, each conjure up the man of their dreams to make life more exciting. The man they get is Nicholson, who disrupts their lives and teaches them to "be careful of what you dream because you just might get it."

The acting is excellent, the pacing is perfect and the photography is crisp and clear. The film does have a distracting flaw, however. The ending forsakes the revealing, funny story of the women and the upheaval created by Nicholson for elaborate special effects. These horror-film-like stunts dilute the movie's humor and seem out of place.

The witches of Eastwick, casting spells.

Nonetheless, you won't want to miss seeing Witches if for no other reason than to catch Nicholson's hilarious, cherry-spitting speech in church.

The Witches of Eastwick,* Warner Bros., $89.95.

SOMEONE TO WATCH OVER ME

What happens when a married, blue-collar detective is assigned to protect a beautiful, fabulously wealthy witness to a murder? Can he resist temptation, particularly when she comes to depend on his nightly presence? What about his family when his wife finds out? What about the ruthless killer who is stalking her?

That's the juicy premise of Someone to Watch Over Me, an eerie detective thriller that adds a dash of Fatal Attraction to the mix. Viewers remain in suspense until the very end, when all the story elements run headlong together for a finale that you'll never forget.

Tom Berenger, who was nominated for an Oscar for his work in Platoon, plays the detective. Mimi Rogers (Mrs. Tom Cruise) is fine as the cool millionairess whose life is turned upside down. But the best notices go to Lorraine Bracco as Berenger's neglected wife who suspects something more than a routine case is occupying her husband.

Turning Your Living Room Into a Movie Theater

Today's projection TVs offer sharper pictures and cost less.

You bought your dish to get the big picture, but the big picture looks rather small on that 19-inch television. Thinking bigger? You don't have to stop at a 25 or 27-inch screen. You can go to 40, 50 or 60 inches if you move to projection television.

The latest models have made quantum leaps in quality since the days when big-screen TVs took up too much room, were dim and out of focus or were just too expensive.

The bulky, two-piece units that took over a whole room have been replaced by compact rear-projection consoles—or by small projectors that can be mounted on the ceiling or under the coffee table.

Technical improvements in the projection tubes have led to a much brighter picture—making it unnecessary to dim the room lights. The brighter picture also means that screens can go just about anywhere, without concern for ambient lighting.

Satellite dish owners have historically steered away from projection sets because the TVs not only magnified the picture but any flaws in the signal as well. Recent improvements in satellite receivers and the addition of VideoCipher II picture enhancements have nearly eliminated these problems.

And while the higher-end units are still rather costly, the entry-level fee has dropped to about $1,900 list and less if you shop around.

While you're out looking, you may see a few different kinds of projection units. Single-unit front-projection models solved the problem of keeping the projector aligned with the screen. However, they took up a lot of floor space and have been replaced by rear-projection designs in manufacturers' lines.

Rear projection TVs dominate the market with screens ranging in size from 37 to 60 inches. For more money you can get larger screens, brighter pictures, higher resolutions and such features as MTS decoders, stereo amplifiers and multiple audio/video inputs.

HITACHI

Hitachi's 42-inch, mid-priced CT4275B

THREE PRICE LEVELS

At the lower price levels, Magnavox, a brand of North American Phillips Company, offers a 41-inch rear projection set for about $2,200. The RH8520 TV incorporates stereo amplifiers and parental channel control and comes with Magnavox's universal remote control, which will work on most brands of VCRs as well as the television.

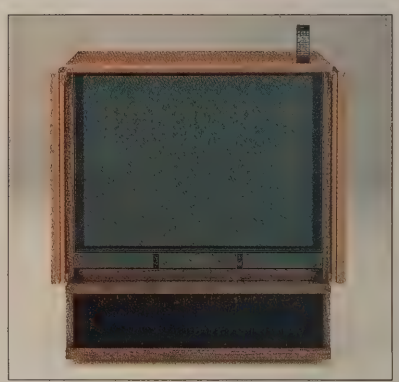
Hitachi Sales Corp. of America's CT5062 model, also near $2,200, is a 50-inch set with built-in MTS and a universal remote as well.

The middle of the range, at about $2,800, includes Hitachi's CT4275B, a 42-inch high-resolution (500 lines horizontal) model, built-in MTS and surround sound, Super VHS inputs and digital circuits and double tuners for picture-in-picture capabilities.

Also at mid-range is Panasonic's PTJ4578. At 45 inches, this model has a universal remote, parental guidance lockout, stereo amplifier and built-in MTS.

TOP OF THE LINE

At the top of the line, climbing above $4,000, is Mitsubishi's 60-inch VS683, one of the biggest rear-projection models available. Also in this price range, Pioneer's 50-inch SDP501 uses microprocessors to detect ambient light and then balances color, brightness and contrast appropriately.



PIONEER ELECTRONICS

Pioneer's top-of-the-line model SDP501

Bigger screens—for bigger budgets—are available in front-projection two-piece models. The screen, not attached to the projector, is mounted on a wall or floor stand. Screens—flat or curved—can be as large as 25 feet diagonal.

From Harman Kardon, the VPM500, at about $4,800, claims to be the brightest of all projection TVs. With up to 600 lines of resolution, the projector can be mounted on the ceiling, on the floor or under a coffee table. It can fill a 20-foot screen—or one as small as 4 feet diagonally. The unit has two video and two audio inputs but does not contain its own tuner.

Much like this model is the Pulsar VPM 2020, selling for about $4,500. It can fill a 25-foot screen but, unlike Harmon's offering, uses a wired instead of a wireless remote.

UNDER COFFEE TABLES

Selling for about $5,000 is Infinity's RSVP (Reference Standard Video Projector). This floor-mounted unit comes with a solid oak cabinet, but the projector can be removed and tucked under coffee tables. It includes a tuner, MTS and surround-sound decoders and has Super VHS inputs. It comes set for use with a six-foot curved screen but can be adjusted for flat or curved screen sizes ranging from 5 to 15 feet. It boasts a resolution of over 600 horizontal lines. ■

For help in setting up your projection system, write to Pulsar Video Systems Inc. at 7676 Clairemont Mesa Blvd., San Diego, Ca., 92111 and request their "Home Theater Planning Guide."

INFINITY SYSTEMS

The RSVP system from Infinity is state-of-the-art projection television.

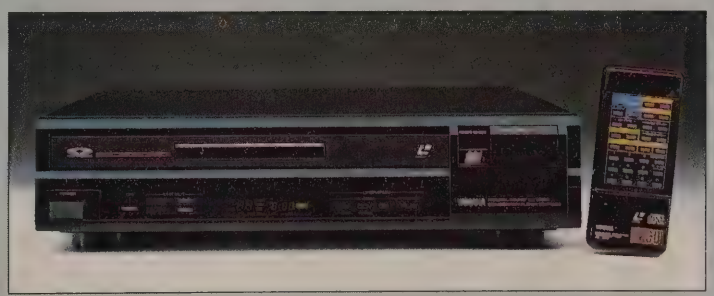
The Big Disc

Dish owners who need a bigger choice in programming should consider the big disc: the video disc. Video discs have been around for years without getting much attention but recent developments have brought them back into the limelight.

First, higher resolution TV sets have made consumers want a playback medium that produces pictures of better quality than videotape. Second, the compact audio disc has demonstrated that consumers will go for a play-only recorder. Third, the debate over the video disc formats has ended with Laser Video the winner.

Consumers no longer need fear a VHS versus Beta type of war dividing the marketplace. Now that a standard is set, many manufacturers have jumped back in with new models.

Prices range from $750 for most basic models to over $2,000 for units with advanced programming features. This new generation of laser disc players delivers clearer, more stable pictures with over 420 horizontal lines of resolution. All solid-state laser pickups provide more efficient filtering of outside noises.



YAMAHA ELECTRONICS

Yamaha's CDV-1000 plays several discs.

Wireless remotes and on-screen graphics are standard.

Like most units, the Magnavox CDV474 ($750), Pioneer CLD-1010 ($800), Yamaha's CDV-1000 ($800) and the Teknika HAVD10 will play CD audio discs as well as both CAV and CLV video discs. These units offer such special effects as freeze frame, slow-motion play and time search from CAV discs only (CLV discs have traded this capability for longer playing times per side). Fast scan and chapter search features operate with both.

A unique feature of the Pioneer CLD-1030 ($900) is automatic program editing of CD audio discs. This feature calculates the length of the selections and groups them for efficient transfer to audio cassettes.

The top-of-the-line Pioneer LD-S1 ($2,000) has added digital circuitry to obtain all of the special effects from both CAV and CLV discs but has given up the ability to play CD audio discs.

All the units capable of playing CDE audio discs will also play the newest type of laser disc (CD-V) or CD video. While they are the same sizes as a normal 70-minute audio CDE, these gold discs contain up to 5 minutes of video and 20 minutes of digital audio. These CD-V discs, however, are not expected to arrive in the U.S. until late in the year. ■

Tasty Morsels Served Up at Frank's Place

Characters, music, comedy and drama make this series a spicy Southern delight.

You never know what they're serving at Frank's Place, the CBS (T1, 7) show about a restaurant in New Orleans. One day it's comedy, seasoned with seriousness; the next day it's drama with a dash of wit. Whatever's on special, though, is sure to taste good. In a world of lite TV, Frank's Place is a gourmet treat, a zesty gumbo that stimulates the palate, pleases the appetite and leaves you wanting more.

At the center of it all is Tim Reid, who is both co-producer and star of the show. Reid plays Frank Parrish, the New England college professor who chucked academia to manage the Chez Louisianne, which he inherited from his father. Frank takes his audience with him as he learns the ropes of the restaurant business and the Creole community served by the Chez (pronounced Shezz).

Frank's Place has an ensemble cast of 11, including Big Arthur, the mean-looking but soft-hearted head cook played by Tony Burton. In one show, Burton, a former boxer who played the trainer in the Rocky films, displays his fighting skills in a bout with a rival chef over a prized recipe. Shorty, the sous chef, is portrayed by Don Yesso, a newcomer to acting who won his role after sharing an airplane ride with one of the producers. Miss Marie, the waitress emeritus, is played by the 83-year-old actress Frances E. Williams. There's also Frank's girlfriend Hanna Griffin, a mortician (that's right, a mortician), played by Tim Reid's real-life wife Daphne Maxwell Reid. And Bubba Weisberger, the Jewish country lawyer, is played by Robert Harper.

The denizens of the Chez are always getting into scrapes. One of the most hilarious was the time they stole the body of a deceased friend from Mrs. Bertha Griffin-Lamour's funeral home to throw a late-night party in his honor—and get too drunk to take him back. They stash the body in the Chez's freezer and leave Frank to deal with a surprise visit from the health inspector.

SERIOUS SIDE

Frank's Place also has its serious side. In one episode, Frank, who is black, almost joins the posh New Orleans Capital C. Club until he learns that it discriminates against dark-skinned blacks. In another, the restaurant is sued after a patron, intoxicated while drinking at the bar, dies in a car accident. Lawyer Bubba Weisberger investigates and discovers in a wrenching confession from the widow that the death was really a suicide.

CBS

Husband and wife team Tim and Daphne Maxwell Reid.

Clearly, Frank's Place is not a traditional sitcom or a traditional TV drama. Blacks predominate in the racially mixed cast but neither the blacks nor the whites are stereotypes. Says Reid, "The blacks are not woe-is-me, downtrodden, black people, and the whites are not racist, hang-'em-type white guys. It's a show that's respectful to both cultures." And, remarkably, there is no laugh track. Frank's Place does, however, have a juke box that plays everything from jazz to zydeco.

Untraditional is exactly what co-producers Reid, who played Venus Flytrap on WKRP Cincinnati, and Hugh Wilson, WKRP's producer, had in mind when they proposed a series set in the South to CBS last year. "We knew we could do a standard sitcom and make a lot of money, or we could take a chance. We chose to take that chance," says Reid. "If there's criticism of the show, it's that we didn't take the safe road."

While that approach has won the show attention, even acclaim by television critics, some network executives are not impressed. Says President of NBC Entertainment Brandon Tartikoff: "I fail to see what all the raves are. I can understand a comedy without a laugh track, but I can't understand a comedy that isn't funny. Or that doesn't tell a story. I don't know if four years from now somebody's going to watch an episode of Frank's Place saying, 'Oh yeah, I remember that one, that was really poignant.'"

PLACE NOT PLOT

Viewers may not remember the plots, but they will surely remember the place. "The most important aspect of the show is the sense of place it conveys," says Reid. "You feel the community. You feel New Orleans. We try very hard to do that." Realistic, three-dimensional characters help bring Frank's Place to life. The music is exactly the kind you'd expect to hear in a restaurant like the Chez. And the show is filmed like a movie, not videotaped like most half-hour programs. Though film is more expensive, it lends a visual depth and richness that is lacking in video productions.

The result is a complex, textured show that challenges viewers to pay attention. "This is not a program for couch potatoes," says Reid. And while the format may not change viewing habits or signal the start of a new type of television, it brings some of the richness of regional American culture to the often bland fare of prime-time TV. ■

A SELECTION OF USEFUL AND IMAGINATIVE PRODUCTS

THE ORAL SHOWER TOOTHBRUSH — BECAUSE PLEASANT EXPERIENCES ARE HABIT-FORMING

At a time when dental health is in the news and on our minds, the Progiene Oral Shower Toothbrush is a welcome arrival. It's so convenient — with no need for extra appliances, electricity or cords; simply screw in one or both adapters included to replace the aerator on your faucet, permanently. Then the water tube just slides in and the toothbrush snaps on. Open the tap to provide a shower for your teeth; close tap while brushing with toothpaste; open again for an invigorating, thorough rinse. The combination of water pressure and brushing provides massaging action while helping to ensure removal of tiny food particles — even braces and dentures can benefit. Your mouth will feel so pleasantly clean, you might get "hooked" on this habit, and it's an excellent incentive for children to look forward to brushing. Two snap-on brushes of different colors included; extras come in pairs of two more colors. 2-year limited warranty. Progiene Kits. $25.98 ($5.00) #A1807X; pair of extra brushes, $7.98 ($3.00) #A1808X.

THE MAGICAL SPARE BED

It's almost like pulling an extra bed out of a hat. Unlike most spare beds that gobble up storage space and are unwieldy to move, this one rolls down to fit a 36"-long, 3"-diameter canvas case, to stash in a closet corner, car trunk, camper, anywhere. Yet it unrolls in minutes to a full-size 27" x 73" bed that will even accommodate 6-footers, supports up to 500 pounds and is comfortable to boot. The secret's in the inventive construction: a cotton canvas sling is supported on laminated steel legs with 6 steel springs for cushioning and stability on rough ground. Toss the carrying strap over your shoulder and go — camping, beach, poolside; the 10" legs keep it off damp ground and sand. Of course, this bed is indispensable at home, country home, dorm — even for kids in motel rooms. A superb value at $49.00 ($5.95) #A1745.

PORTABLE ALARM

This affordable and versatile alarm hangs from its chain on any doorknob and is activated by motion. The distinctive musical alarm can help you keep track of kids and pets; on certain cabinet doors, it alerts you to a toddler's explorations. Inside a traveler's room door, it provides extra security at night. And a magnet on back secures it to the refrigerator — midnight raiders beware! On/off switch; button-cell batteries included. $10.00 ($2.95) #A1768X.

STINKY PINKYS

Fortunately, human anatomy is arranged so the nose and the feet are separated by the greatest possible distance. Even so, the twain do occasionally meet — and the nose is usually not delighted to know of the foot's exertions. Now just put a Stinky Pinky "sock" in each shoe and overnight odor is gone, absorbed by the special blend of all natural earth materials. Works in running shoes, sneakers, boots, leather shoes, anything that goes on your feet. And keeps on working, too—just put Stinky Pinkys out in the sun for a day every three months or so to restore their odor-catching ability. Three pairs of Stinky Pinkys, enough for 6 shoes or boots, costs $19.00 ($3.95) #A13263.

SHARPEST OF THE SHARPENERS

The classic knife sharpening tool is the butcher's steel, but most people find it intimidating. The Chantry Knife Sharpener duplicates butcher steel action but makes it so simple anyone can sharpen and realign a blade edge perfectly in moments. As the knife edge is drawn between a pair of hard (Rockwell 64-65) Sheffield Steel rods, spring-loaded at just the proper angle, both sides of the blade are aligned. Works on stainless or carbon steel knives, straight or serrated edges. The Chantry is made of heavily enameled steel, can be countertop mounted, costs $32.00 ($4.95) #A1225. It is included in the permanent design collection of the Museum of Modern Art.

TRAVELING TUNES

Stereo music and biking can be an exhilarating combination, but headphones and biking are a dangerous one, now outlawed in many states. The Tune Tote 2 provides a pair of 2"-diameter mylar speakers (30 to 20,000 Hz.) with battery-powered amplifiers that more than double the sound output. The weather-resistant ABS plastic unit comes complete with mounting brackets to fit virtually any handlebar; secure straps hold your own favorite radio or cassette player on a shock-absorbing platform. (Any standard pocket-size player is compatible; plug is 3.5mm.) Off the bike, it has a handy shoulder strap — great for picnics, beach, hiking. 2 AAA batteries not included; one-year limited warranty. $38.98 ($4.00) #A1809X.

RELIVE THE 1930's OR 1940's AS YOU LISTEN TO OLD-TIME RADIO SHOWS ON AN "OLD-TIME" RADIO/CASSETTE PLAYER.

If you're old enough to remember the family gathering around the radio to listen to The Jack Benny Show or Suspense or The Hit Parade, you'll appreciate the care that went into creating this authentic replica of a table-top-size cathedral radio. And it's not plastic! Finely crafted of wood, beautifully stained — like the elegant pre-World War II radios — and boasting a lighted dial, it's handsome enough for your antique collection. But it's designed to be heard as well as seen. That's why it includes a relatively large (4") dynamic speaker, a AM/FM tuner, FM automatic frequency control to prevent drift, and — so you can once again enjoy those old-time radio shows (available on cassettes) — a built-in cassette player, with auto stop. (The slot for inserting the cassettes is on the side of the radio, so as not to disturb the old-time appearance) Standing 12" tall for use on a desk or table, the radio comes with a 90-day warranty.

- "Old Time" AM/FM Radio w/Cassette Player, $99.00 ($5.95) #A1771.
- Optional six Comedy Cassettes, with case, $25.00 ($3.95) #A1772.

THEFT-STOP — BECAUSE APPEARANCES COUNT

Flashing red lights and a digital key pad — when a potential thief sees this black unit on your dashboard or a wall of your home, that thief is likely to be discouraged enough to find another scene for the crime. Theft Stop isn't an alarm, but provides the same visual deterrent, at a fraction of the cost, and with no wiring required, no false alarms or battery drain. It also comes with a warning decal (not shown here and changed periodically so burglers don't get the hang of it). There's a code for "deactivating" it; lights stop flashing so parking valet and auto-repair personnel can be assured the alarm is off. Takes 2 AA batteries not included. $13.00 ($2.95) #A1773.

ODOR AND STAIN ELIMINATOR

Mother Nature knows a lot about cleaning. In her realm bacteria produce enzymes that devour all manner of organic wastes. Now put this natural cleansing/purifying principle to work in your home. With the Pet Out system you can eliminate all the stains and lingering odors caused by animal accidents. Also works as bathroom, laundry and general all purpose cleaner. Even works on mildew and perspiration. An 18 oz. aerosol can of OUT stain eliminator and a 16 oz. squeeze bottle of OUT odor eliminator cost $13.00 ($3.95) #A16122.

SAFETY FOR A RAINY DAY

According to Road & Track, "Rain-X merits the attention of every automobile, boat and aircraft owner." This space-age polymer product coats windshields, side and rear windows, mirror and lights with an invisible shield that disperses rain, sleet and snow on contact — and can make the difference between seeing and not seeing road conditions. Moisture doesn't film the surface but "beads" and rolls off, with or without wipers. The non-distorting, non-reflective coating also seals and conditions glass against sand, salt, pollutants, tar. Easy-to-use liquid just wipes on; lasts through many cleanings. Two 7-oz. bottles. $12.00. ($2.95) #A1751.

A CLASSIC AMONG WATCHES

Handsome his-and-hers watches will never be out of style. Pleasantly priced for giving—or treating yourself—they have the traditional appeal of black lizard bands (genuine, of course) and easy-to-read dials in rich champagne. The fashionably thin case is stainless-steel backed, with dial edged in 1-micron gold plate over brass. Inside, a modern classic: a fine Japanese quartz movement. Men's $50.00 ($4.95) #A1709; Women's $50.00 ($4.95) #A1710.

No Ladies' Man

Slap Maxwell may not attract women viewers but he's sure grabbed the critics.

He's sarcastic, arrogant and insecure. He's got armor around his heart and acid in his sportswriting pen. He's sort of a walking midlife crisis. And on top of all that, he smokes smelly cigars.

In other words, Slap Maxwell is the kind of guy that only Dabney Coleman could do justice to week after week. And from all appearances, Coleman and his cantankerous alter ego have done just fine in ABC's dramatic comedy The Slap Maxwell Story, (T1, 10) which winds up its rookie season this spring. Although the series hasn't exactly sent audience ratings skyrocketing—barely ranking among the season's top 50 shows—it's been such a critical success that ABC is more than likely to include the program on its prime-time schedule this fall.

Part of the show's success may well have to do with its trendy mix of comedy and drama. Slap Maxwell is one of a handful of so-called "dramedy" shows that have cropped up over the last year. The dramedies, which do not use live audiences or laugh tracks, include "Slap's" Wednesday night ABC companion Hooperman, CBS' acclaimed Frank's Place and NBC's The Days and Nights of Molly Dodd and Beverly Hills Buntz.

But Slap Maxwell's real claim to fame is its star, Dabney Coleman, who has made a career of playing whimsically unsavory characters that you love to hate—but invariably end up loving. A 56-year-old native of Corpus Christi, Texas, Coleman launched his comedy career in 1976 as the smug and corrupt mayor in the offbeat soap opera Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman. From there he moved on to play the sexist boss in the film 9 to 5 and the pompous TV director in Tootsie.

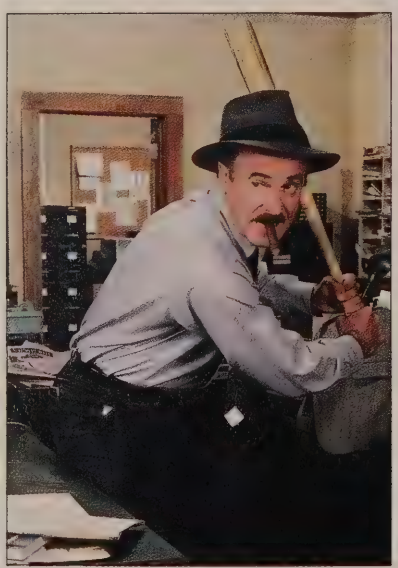
JERK-OF-ALL-TRADES

But it was Coleman's portrayal of the domineering, smarmy TV talk show host "Buffalo Bill" Bittinger in the short-lived but much-praised comedy series Buffalo Bill (NBC, 1983) that cemented his reputation as an unconventional jerk-of-all-trades. Bittinger was prime time's first truly contemptible leading man, a guy you'd sooner murder than shake hands with.



Dabney Coleman: a character you love to hate.

It was also on Buffalo Bill that Coleman met Jay Tarses, the show's creator/producer. Tarses, who also created and serves as executive producer of NBC's Molly Dodd as well as Slap Maxwell, came up with the role of Slap specifically for Coleman. Tarses figured quite rightly that playing a hard-boiled sportswriter would perfectly suit the actor's stinging, deadpan style.

SLAP SHOTS

Slap is a cynical, old-school sports maven who wears a snap brim hat and writes the controversial column "Slap Shots" for a small newspaper called The Daily Ledger. He's hanging by his typewriter punching ink-stained fingernails to save his career after turning 50. His demeanor is just this side of nasty, and he conducts regular verbal jousts with his editor (Brian Smiar) and his estranged wife's suitors.

Yet there is a decent, humane, even vulnerable side to Slap Maxwell that we never saw in Buffalo Bill. Coleman's Slap has a mix of qualities that enriches the show. "It is demanding to convince an audience that on the one hand you're crusty and antisocial while on the other you're sentimental," says Coleman. "The challenge is to make it entertaining, to make it moving and to make it funny."

Coleman admits that he has plenty in common with Slap, notably a love of baseball and a worship of batting great Ted Williams. If Slap could step outside the show and away from the actor, the two of them "would be real good buddies," Coleman says.

The Slap Maxwell Story isn't all Dabney Coleman, of course. A sprightly Megan Gallagher plays the secretary who has the hots for Slap, Bill Cobbs is the sympathetic bartender at Slap's local hangout, and Susan Anspach plays the wife who has been separated from Slap for 15 years.

Despite a strong supporting cast, good scripts and Coleman's masterful acting, the show, like Slap himself, has had to scrap for survival in the fickle world of network TV. It has been labeled a guy's show, one with strictly masculine appeal. Slap is a man's man, not a ladies' man.

Convinced that the show needed to attract female viewers, the producers brought in Shirley Jones last winter to play Slap's old girlfriend from his Texas hometown. Slap fell head-over-heels in love. Whether the show will succeed in holding female viewers remains to be seen. But no matter who watches, The Slap Maxwell Story is one of the most innovative and original half hours on television. ■

♦ THE BLACK DIAMOND IS BACK ♦

Thanks for all of your cards and letters responding to the new look in ORBIT. While most readers applauded such additions as "Your Favorite Shows By Interest" and "Movies by Service," others missed some of the old features.

Many of the changes were made necessary by the 18 percent postal increases for magazines, which required making the magazine more concise to avoid a price increase.

By popular demand, we are restoring some of the features which did not take up additional space. One of them is the black diamonds used to denote subscription programming in movies and daily listings. A large number of our readers rely on these symbols to plan their day's viewing.

We've also expanded our coverage this month to include all four feeds of Public Broadcasting Service. The B feed is in the daily TV listings and the A, C and D feeds are listed in "Continuous Programming."

Two new superstations, KTLA-Los Angeles and WSBK in Boston, are listed for the first time in the prime-time grid and the daily listings.

ORBIT is YOUR magazine, and our aim is to make your TV viewing as easy as possible.

HOW TO USE

IT'S EASY! HERE ARE QUESTIONS AND SIMPLE ANSWERS ABOUT HOW TO USE YOUR ORBIT PROGRAMMING GUIDE:

Q. How can I find the programming service I want to watch?
A. Look at "Where to Find Satellite TV Services" on page B32. It lists the service, hours of operation, the satellite and the transponder (satellite channel). If it has a black diamond, it is scrambled and available by subscription only.

MAJOR NETWORKS
ABC—Contract Channel	G2 11	o/v
ABC—East	T1 10	8a-5a
ABC—West	T2 10	o/v

Showtime—East	G1 5 ♦
Showtime—West	G1 16 ♦
TVSC	W5 15
TVSC	W5 18

Q. How do I know what service is on each satellite?
A. Look at "Your Guide to the Skies," which lists satellites in the order in which they appear in the sky, along with the transponder numbers and what's on each one.

WESTAR 5 W5 122.5°W	SATCOM F3 F3 131°W
Occasional	HBO (Home Box Office) —West ♦
The University Network (The	Reuter ◊

Q. What about the radio services on satellite?
A. "Satellite Radio" lists the audio services and the audio frequency at which they can be picked up. The page also lists frequencies of video services that broadcast in stereo.

JAZZ
KKGO-FM—Los Angeles	F1	7	5.58
New Age Of Jazz	G3	11	7.38/7.56, DS
Satellite Jazz Network	F3	4	5.58/5.76, DS

Q. Where's the latest news about TV?
A. Look at "What's New," which describes new TV programs and services.

Q. Where can I find out about sports?
A. The sports section begins with a description of some of the most important events, followed by the month's schedule of events by sport, arranged alphabetically. Under each heading is the day, event, satellite, service and time.

BASEBALL

Major League
2nd /SATA look ahead to the upcoming 1988 baseball season. [NBC-E] F1,8 3:30p.

Q. What are "Wild Feeds" and where can I get them?
A. Wild feeds are satellite transmissions relayed across the country to local TV stations and network headquarters. They are not regularly scheduled or not publicly announced and are not found in local TV listings but we carry the listings in ORBIT.

Q. How do I know what movies my favorite programmer carries?
A. "Movies By Service" lists movies alphabetically for each service, both subscription and clear.

Nostalgia Channel

Abilene Town ★★½ (1946)
Abraham Lincoln ★★½ (1930)
Alaska Highway ★½ (1943)
Alexander Nevsky ★★★★ (1938)
Angels One Five ★★ (1952)
The Ape Man ★½ (1943)
The Bashful Bachelor ★½ (1942)

Q. How can I find out about subscription services and what they cost?
A. See the subscription services chart.

Q. Is there a complete list of movies?
A. Every movie for the month is listed in alphabetical order in the "Movies" section. The example to the right means that Abbott And Costello Meet Captain Kidd, with 2 stars, is available on satellite F4, transponder 19 (WPIX) at 12:00 p.m. Eastern Time, on April 10th and runs 90 minutes. The ratings range from one star for poor to four stars for excellent.

AAA

Abbott And Costello Meet Captain Kidd ★★ (1952 Comedy) Charles Laughton, Hillary Brooke. The boys search for a pirate's treasure, with the pirate in hot pursuit. [90 min.] [WPIX] F4,19 10th (12:00p).

Q. How do I read the daily programming?
A. Each day we run at least four pages of programming. The example to the right means the program is at 1 p.m. Eastern, noon Central, 11 a.m. Mountain and 10 p.m. Pacific times. In the middle two pages is the prime-time grid, with a special section on the highlights of all programs for the day.

	22 [KTVT] Matt Houston
G1	3 [WGN] News
	4 [DIS-E] Kit Carson And The Mountain Men ★★ (1977) [90 min]

Q. Where can I find the programs not listed every hour in the TV listings?
A. Look in the "Continuous Programming" section toward the back. Because most of their schedules are repeated daily, they are not listed in the daily programming log.

Q. Can I use these listings if I have cable television?
A. Absolutely. ORBIT's Programming Guide has the most complete listing of cable channels anywhere. You will find the name of the network and program service with each listing. The abbreviations are explained on the next page.

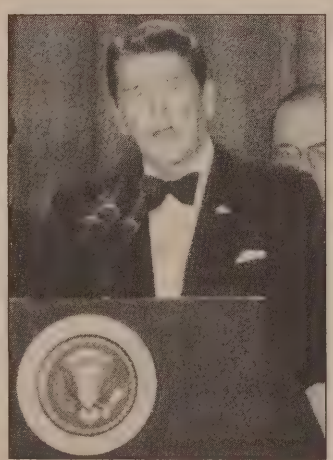
PROGRAMMING UPDATE

Watching the Summit—In Almost Any Language You Want

When President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev hold their Moscow summit May 29 to June 2, dish owners will have the world's best seats. Aside from the major broadcast network and cable television sources for news and information, dish owners will want to tune in to Canada's CBC (A1, 19). Other sources of information about the summit include: AFRTS (F2, 22), ABC/NHK London (G2, 11), Visnews (W5, 3 & 23; W4, 9, 11, 13 & 14; T1, 23) and The Newsfeed Network (T1, 3). There's also SCOLA (T2, 24) for international news in the original language, RAI (F2, 20 & F4, 2) for news in Italian, TV Globo (F2, 20) for Portuguese, JISO (W4, 13) for Japanese, and HBC (W4, 18) for Spanish. On weekdays at 12 and 6:30 pm dish owners can tune in the BBC and ITN evening newscasts from London on G2, 11. Many of the newsfeeds and newscasts for the above services are listed either in Satellite ORBIT's "Wild Feeds" or "Continuous Programming" sections.



A U.S.-Soviet summit is slated for June.

In a related matter, Cable News Network is bringing its coverage of world news behind the Iron Curtain. According to an agreement signed by Ted Turner and Janusz Roszkowski, chairman of the Polish State Committee for Radio and Television, eight to ten million Polish TV viewers will be able to watch CNN Headline News broadcasts of the prime-time evening program Panorama. The program will be taped, translated into Polish and broadcast along with a similiar report from Soviet television.

Deep Dish TV: The Second Slice

Deep Dish TV, a part-time public-affairs network carrying informational and educational programs in the clear, is back on F3, 7 with 16 new programs. The new shows, broadcast Tuesdays starting at 3 pm, will run this year until August 2. May offerings include: People and the Land: Farming and Agriculture (May 3), About Face: Soldiers, Refugees and Other Victims Of War (May 10), The Border: Where Do We Draw the Line? (May 17), Angry Initiatives/Defiant Strategies (May 24) and Biting the Hand that Leads Us: Humor and Social Change (May 31).

More Movies

A new movie channel, Stardust Theatre, will be available to backyard dish owners beginning July 4 on G2, 2 daily from midnight to 6 am. Plans call for the service to expand to a 24-hour daily schedule. The new service is provided by Home Dish Only, which offers adult programming channels American Exxxtasy and The Tuxxedo Network. Stardust, which will carry more mainstream programming, will be offering such movies as Dragnet, The Secret of My Success, Legal Eagles, and Brighton Beach Memoirs to dish owners with a VC II. The price is $65 a year with a special introductory rate of $50 a year for those ordering before the July 4 rollout. To order call (800) 433-7519 or (212) 696-4111.

Brighton Beach Memoirs on Stardust Theatre.

Spirit in the Sky

A new multidenominational religious service, Vision Interfaith Satellite Network, plans to transmit eight hours of spiritually oriented programming daily, from 6 pm to 2 am, via satellite starting this September. The advertiser-supported service says it has no plans to scramble and will expand to 18 hours a day, possibly by year's end. Though the satellite and transponder plans were still being discussed, the programmer suggested that the F3 bird was a possible site.

SCRAMBLING UPDATE

Disney, Lifetime, Weather Channel to Scramble

The Disney Channel (G1, 4 & 24) will commence full-time addressable mode VC II scrambling on May 11, 1988. The service, which airs children's and family programming, is being sold to dish owners for $89.40 per year. For more information contact Disney at (800) 3DISNEY, (1-800-334-7639).

The Weather Channel has announced plans to scramble this year via VC II. It will be available to home dish owners by subscription from various programming packagers, including HBO's FLEX-PAK. Scrambling plans call for VC II fixed-key testing to begin on July 15 and full-time VC II addressable mode scrambling to start on September 1. The Weather Channel is currently transmitting in the clear on G3, 13 for 24 hours daily.

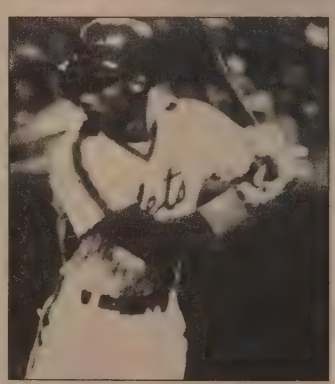
Lifetime plans to scramble full-time in the VC II's addressable mode by May 2. Lifetime will also scramble the service's new West Coast feed (G3, 20) shortly after the East Coast feed is scrambled. The service is part of Viacom's basic service package available to dish owners. Call (800) 422-9000 for more information.

Home Sports Entertainment has set May 15 as a tentative date for full-time addressable scrambling using the VC II. It is possible, however, that the service may not meet that deadline. The service will continue testing in May on HSE's main feed F4, 11. HSE's "black-out" feed on F1, 10 will be in the clear this month. No definitive scrambling plans were announced at press time for either the F1, 10 feed or The Sunshine Network on F1, 11. An annual subscription to HSE will be $48 for dish owners who live outside a 90-mile radius of Houston and $95 a year for those living within that area.

SUBSCRIPTION UPDATE

More Options for Dish Owners

National Programming Service is now offering the Skyline Silver superstation programming package. The package consists of KTLA—Los Angeles (F1, 16), WSBK—Bos-



WWOR carries many Mets games.

"What do I want? I want a voice in decisions that affect me. I want someone to talk to when I have a problem. And I don't want to pay outrageous prices for accessories and programming. Is that too much to ask?"

ton (F1, 5) and WWOR—New York (G1, 15). All three stations air a wide variety of programming including movies and sporting events. For more information call (800) 444-DISH (1-800-444-3474).

CHANGING PLACES

SportsChannel, KTVT Move

KTVT—Dallas/Ft. Worth, a superstation included in the Superstar Connection's superstation package, has moved again. The service, which has been on F1, 1 and F1, 22, is now located on F4, 3. KTVT airs Texas Rangers baseball games along with movies and variety programming 24 hours daily. The Superstar Connection's programming package also includes superstations WGN—Chicago and WPIX—New York for an annual subscription price of $36. Another service of the Superstar Connection is the Skyline Silver superstation package, which consists of WWOR—New York, KTLA—Los Angeles and WSBK—Boston for $36 per year.

The RAI and TV Globo international newsfeeds can now be found on F2, 20. The transmissions were previously on F1, 22. RAI airs at approximately 1:45 pm weekdays and TV Globo airs weekdays at about 4:40 pm. The RAI newsfeeds, in Italian, originate from Rome. The Portuguese-language TV Globo newsfeeds have worldwide originations and are transmitted to Brazil.

Florida's SportsChannel has moved from G3, 12 to F4, 16. The service airs live and tape-delayed sporting events weekdays from 6 pm to 1 am and weekends from 1 pm to 1 am. Channel 16 on F4 had previously been used by Cable Video Store, a pay-per-view service that is not yet available to home satellite dish owners. CVS has moved to G3, 5.

The Motivation Network, a service for religious and self-help programming, has ceased broadcasting. The network, which used to be transmitted on F4, 3, went dark on March 31, 1988.

PAY-PER-VIEW UPDATE

First Run Switches to VC II

First Run, the first service to make popular movies available to dish owners on a pay-per-view basis, will be switching to the VideoCipher II scrambling system this summer. The service, which airs evenings on G2, 4, currently uses the Sony system. Changeover date will be July 1, 1988.

General Instrument, First Run and Home Sports Entertainment are conducting field tests of a new impulse pay-per-view system that will work with the VC II descrambler. Impulse PPV is considered the wave of the future in pay TV because it allows dish owners to order movies and special events without calling the service in advance.

RADIO SERVICE UPDATE

Reggae Radio Channel Starts

Reggae music lovers with backyard dishes now have their own satellite music channel, Reggae Around the World on F3, 16 at 6.2 Mhz. The show features music and interviews with top recording artists and groups such as Mick Jagger, UB40 and Sting, as well as top reggae stars. There's also a toll-free number for call-in comments and requests, (800) 323-1062. The show, hosted by Earl Chin from New York, airs from 10 pm to 1 am Monday through Saturday.

There's another agricultural information service for dish owners: Dataline, from Data Transmission Network Corp. Currently, 22,000 subscribers tune in to the 24-hour news and data text service via FM sideband. Satellite delivery will cost $19.95 a month for the use of a special video monitor and DTN receiver, plus 65 pages of news and information a day. For more information, contact Brad Mumm at 8805 Indian Hills Drive, Suite 350, Omaha, Nebraska, 68114. Telephone: (402) 390-2328.

WRVL-FM from Lynchburg, Virginia, is broadcasting religious and news programming on F4, 7 at 6.2 MHz.

Talk shows, news and contemporary music can now be found on CKNW-AM from Westminster, British Columbia, which is transmitting on A1, 22 at 7.875 MHz.

CKER-AM from Edmonton, Alberta, is airing religious and variety programming on the 7.425 MHz radio frequency on A1, 18.

WCCO-AM from Minneapolis, Minnesota, has moved from F3, 12 to G3, 9 and has stopped simulcasting on F1, 15. The news and talk-show radio station is broadcasting on the 5.94 MHz radio frequency on G3, 9.

The USA Radio Network's feed that is on KTVT's 6.3 and 6.48 MHz radio frequencies has moved with KTVT from F1, 22 to F4, 3.

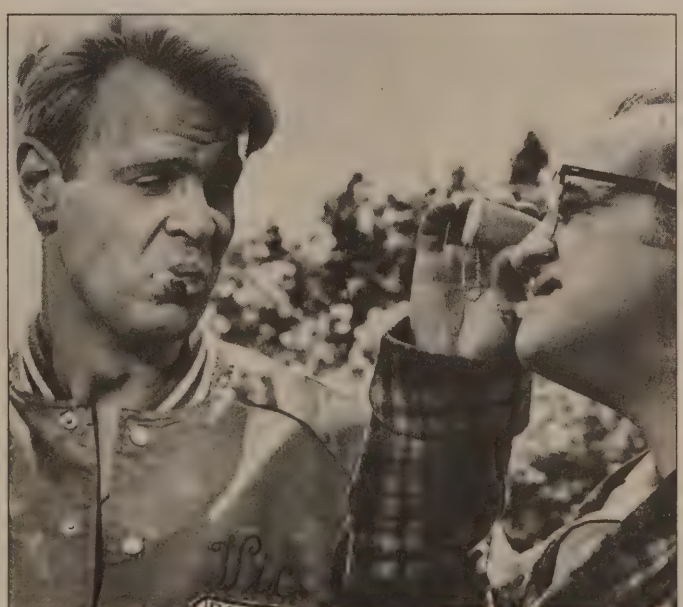
Sheridan Broadcasting Network has stopped using the 5.8 MHz radio frequency on F4, 3. The service can be found on W5, 18 in discrete stereo at 7.38/7.56 MHz.

KU VIEW

Fewer Feeds on K2

The Video Tape Company, which transmits syndicated programming to independent stations, has decreased its use of the K2, 18 satellite. Many of the programs that were on K2 can now be found on T1, 13. In addition, the broadcast times have changed for some of the programs. All updates are listed in "Wild Feeds."

PBS has started using GS2, 23 to transmit some National Narrowcast Service feeds, also known as the "D" feed. The pay service is for universities and institutions. These feeds are also carried on W4, 23. They are likely to be scrambled with VC II soon.



Dan Aykroyd and John Belushi star in* Neighbors, *to air on KTVT.

NBA & NHL

May Heats Up With Hoops And Hockey

With May comes warmer weather and hot sports viewing on satellite TV. Not only will the Indianapolis 500 and other auto races (see feature article on page 14) be shown, but viewers can expect intense and exciting NHL and NBA post-season play.

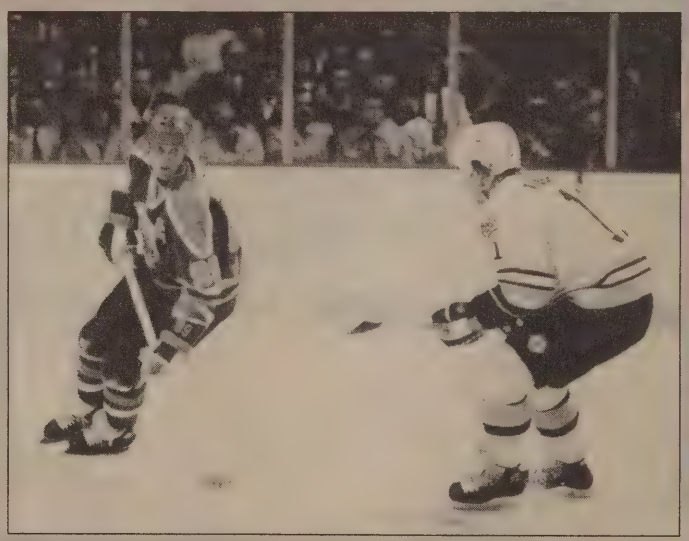
Hockey fans can turn to ESPN (G1, 9) for as many as 22 Stanley Cup playoff games this month, starting Monday, May 2, with conference finals.

The Stanley Cup final series, which begins Wednesday, May 18, could last until May 27 if all seven games are necessary. ESPN will also air Road To The Cup, to keep fans updated on their favorite NHL teams.

Basketball playoffs

Like hockey, pro basketball may be picked up on your dish even while temperatures sizzle outdoors. Last year's NBA post- season play did not end until the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Boston Celtics in the sixth game of the finals in early June. Though this year's playoffs could last until the second week in June, there will be plenty of NBA playoff activity in May. SuperStation TBS (G1, 18) will televise at least 25 live playoff games and CBS (T1, 7), (T2, 16) will televise the finals live.

Dominique Wilkins



Edmonton Oilers' forward, Wayne Gretzky

live broadcasts on May 6 (10 pm), 14 (11 pm), 21 (8:30 pm), and 27 (7:30 pm). The times are tentative because of ESPN's NHL Stanley Cup coverage.

GOLF

The PGA will be swinging through May with five tournaments, starting with the Independent Insurance Agent Open finals on ABC May 1 at 1:30 pm. The next weekend, May 7 and 8, NBC will air the third and final rounds of the Panasonic Las Vegas Invitational at 4 pm. On May 14 and 15, ABC will televise the Byron Nelson Golf Classic. The Colonial National Invitational will be broadcast by CBS on May 21 and 22. CBS and ESPN will cover the Memorial Tournament on May 26-29. ESPN will also broadcast all rounds of the PGA Seniors Vantage at the Dominion Tournament live on May 6-8.

All times listed are Eastern.

Greg Norman

TENNIS

One of professional tennis' fastest-paced tournaments, the French Open, will be carried on ESPN from May 23 through June 3, some matches live and some tape-delayed. Many of them may be found on wild sports feeds in the clear on W4, W5, F1, and/or S1. The men's and women's finals of the French Open will be seen June 4 and 5 on NBC (F1, 8), (K2, 3).

HORSE RACING

Horse-racing fans will not want to miss the first and most prestigious race in the 1988 Triple Crown—The Kentucky Derby. The race, to be run Saturday, May 7, at Churchill Downs, will be televised live on ABC (T1, 10), (T2, 10) at 4:30 pm. A pre-race special will air on ESPN at 3 pm.

FOOTBALL

Football fans who have started missing the rough and tough gridiron action on satellite TV can tune into ESPN's coverage of the 1988 arena football season. ESPN will air

Kentucky Derby airs live May 7 on ABC.

Train for the Fastest Growing Job Skill in America

Only NRI teaches you to service all computers as you build your own, fully PC-compatible micro—now with 20 meg hard disk drive!

The Department of Labor ranks computer service high on its list of top growth fields, with accelerated demand creating more than 30,000 new jobs within the next 10 years.

You can cash in on this opportunity—either as a full-time corporate technician or an independent service-person—once you've learned all the basics of computers the NRI way.

Get inside the latest, fully IBM PC-compatible Sanyo computer—now with hard disk drive

As an NRI student, you'll get total hands-on training as you actually build the latest-model Sanyo 880 Series computer from the keyboard up. It's fully IBM PC-compatible, plus you now go on to install a 20 megabyte hard disk drive to complete your total computer system. Throughout your training, you'll perform demonstrations and experiments that will give you a total mastery of computer operation and servicing techniques.

Understanding you get only through experience

You need no previous knowledge to succeed with NRI. You start with the basics, rapidly building on the fundamentals of electronics with bite-size lessons. You perform hands-on experiments with your NRI Discovery Lab® and then move on to master advanced concepts like digital logic, microprocessors, and computer memories.

Learn at home in your spare time

You train in your own home at your own convenience, backed at all times by your own NRI instructor and the entire NRI staff of educators and student service support people. They're always ready to give you guidance, follow your progress, and help you over the rough spots to keep you moving toward your goal.

Get all the facts from NRI's 100-page catalog.

Your incomparable total systems training includes all this:

NRI's unique Discovery Lab® to let you design and modify circuits, diagnose and repair faults • NRI's digital multimeter, complete with "talk-you-through" instructions on audio cassette • Digital logic probe that lets you visually examine computer circuits • The latest Sanyo 880 Series computer with "intelligent" keyboard and 5¼" floppy disk drive • 20 megabyte hard disk drive you install internally • 8K ROM, 256K RAM • Bundled software including GW-BASIC, MS-DOS, WordStar, CalcStar • Reference manuals, programming guidelines, and schematics.

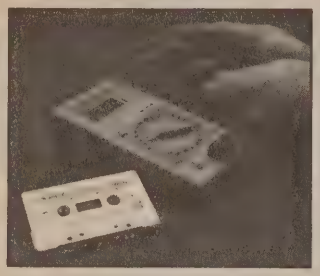
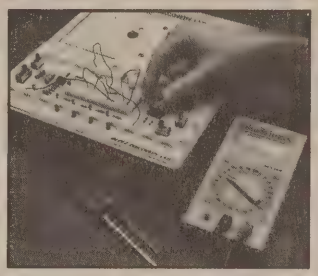
Learn Computer Servicing Skills with NRI's "Hands-On" Training

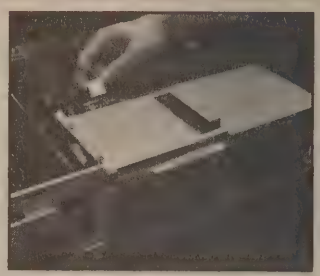


Using NRI's unique Action Audio Cassette, you are talked through the operation and practical application of your hand-held digital multimeter—the basic, indispensable tool for the computer specialist.



You'll set up and perform electronics experiments and demonstrations using your NRI Discovery Lab®. You'll even interface the lab with your computer to "see" keyboard-generated data.

After you build this digital logic probe, you'll explore the operation of the Sanyo detached "intelligent" keyboard and its dedicated microprocessor.



Next, you install the disk drive. You learn disk drive operation and adjustment, make a copy of the MS-DOS operating disk, and begin your exploration of the 8088 CPU.

Total Computer Systems Training, Only From NRI

No computer stands alone . . . it's part of a total system. And if you want to learn to service and repair computers, you have to understand computer systems. Only NRI includes a powerful computer system as part of your training, centered around the new, fully IBM PC-compatible Sanyo 880 Series computer.

As part of your training, you'll actually build this powerful Sanyo 880 Series IBM PC-compatible computer. It has two operating speeds: the standard IBM speed of 4.77 MHz and a remarkable turbo speed of 8 MHz.

Mastery is "built-in"

You'll assemble the Sanyo "intelligent" keyboard, install the power supply and 5¼" floppy disk drive, and attach the high-resolution monitor. But that's not all. You'll go on to install a powerful 20 megabyte hard disk drive—today's most-wanted computer peripheral—now included as part of your hands-on training.

The many demonstrations and experiments you perform as you build your Sanyo computer will give you a total mastery of computer operation, based on a thorough knowledge of the intricacies of computer theory.

The Bourne Identity (1988 Suspense) Richard Chamberlain, Jaclyn Smith. The victim of a brutal murder attempt launches a desperate search for his identity, rejecting overwhelming evidence that he is an international terrorist and murderer. Based on Robert Ludlum's bestseller. [120 min.] [ABC-E] T1, 10 (9:00p). [WABC] F2, 4 (9:00p). [KUSA] F1, 2 (10:00p).

Heartburn (R) ★★½ (1986 Drama) Meryl Streep, Jack Nicholson. Bittersweet story of the turbulent marriage of a New York based food writer and a Washington columnist. [108 min.] [SLCTV] S1, 3 (7:15a, 2:00p, 10:00p).

Swimming To Cambodia ★★★½ (1987 Comedy) Spalding Gray. Jonathan Demme's acclaimed adaptation of Gray's one-man stage show chronicling his experiences in Thailand during the filming of "The Killing Fields." [83 min.] [TMC-E] G1, 10 (11:00p).

MOVIES

The Blue Angel ★★★★ (1930 Drama) Marlene Dietrich, Emil Jannings. Josef Von Sternberg's classic tale of a middle-aged professor whose love for a beautiful cafe singer leads to his downfall. (Subtitled) [99 min.] [BRAVO] F4, 2 (10:30p).

Bringing Up Baby ★★★½ (1938 Comedy) Katharine Hepburn, Cary Grant. Howard Hawks directed this screwball classic about a paleontologist whose search for a missing dinosaur bone involves him with a madcap heiress and her pet leopard. [102 min.] [AMC] F4, 10 (7:00p, 11:00p).

Critters (PG-13) ★★ (1986 Horror) Dee Wallace Stone, Scott Grimes. Fugitive aliens with ravenous appetites eat their way through a Kansas farming town while interstellar bounty hunters attempt to track them down. (Adult Language, Adult Situations, Violence) [120 min.] [WPIX] F4, 19 (9:00p).

Dragonwyck ★★½ (1946 Drama) Gene Tierney, Walter Huston. Anya Seton's novel inspired this tale, set in the 1840s, of a young woman who encounters terror at a Hudson Valley estate. [103 min.] [AMC] F4, 10 (9:00p, 1:00a).

Fast Times At Ridgemont High (R) ★★½ (1982 Comedy) Sean Penn, Jennifer Jason Leigh. High school students in a Southern California town concern themselves more with part-time jobs, rock 'n' roll and sex than studying. (Adult Language, Adult Situations, Nudity) [92 min.] [TMC-E] G1, 10 (8:00p, 2:00a).

The Grapes Of Wrath ★★★★ (1940 Drama) Henry Fonda, Jane Darwell. John Steinbeck's novel serves as the basis for this Oscar-winning account of a Depression-era Oklahoma farm family's migration to California. Directed by John Ford. [128 min.] [DIS-E] G1, 4 (9:00p).

On Dangerous Ground ★★½ (1951 Mystery) Ida Lupino, Ward Bond. A Manhattan detective investigating a murder falls in love with the blind sister of a killer. [90 min.] [A&E] F3, 24 (9:00p, 1:00a).

MOVIES

At Close Range (R) ★★★ (1986 Drama) Sean Penn, Christopher Walken. With little to look forward to, the lure of his long-absent father's profitable life of crime holds a certain appeal for a Pennsylvania teen-ager. (Adult Language, Adult Situations, Brief Nudity, Violence) [114 min.] [SLCTV] S1, 3 (2:00p, 3:30a).

Cyrano De Bergerac ★★★½ (1950 Drama) Jose Ferrer, Mala Powers. Edmond Rostand's play serves as the basis for this Oscar-winning story of a 17th-century Parisian who, ashamed of his oversized nose, finds a manner in which to express his feelings for the woman he loves. [120 min.] [NOST] F4, 21 (11:00p).

Rose Of Washington Square ★★★ (1939 Musical) Al Jolson, Alice Faye. A singer's love for a man is tested by his run-ins with the law. [86 min.] [AMC] F4, 10 (1:00p, 9:00p).

MOVIES

Airplane! (PG) ★★★ (1980 Comedy) Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty. In this spoof of disaster films, a former war pilot with a drinking problem is pressed into service when an airliner's crew succumbs to food poisoning. (Adult Language, Adult Situations, Brief Nudity) [120 min.] [WPIX] F4, 19 (9:00p).

Aliens (R) ★★★½ (1986 Science Fiction) Sigourney Weaver, Michael Biehn. The only human survivor of the spacecraft Nostromo's encounter with a monstrous creature joins another mission to the deserted colony where all the trouble began. (Adult Language, Graphic Violence) [137 min.] [MAX-E] G1, 19 (10:30p).

Down And Out In Beverly Hills (R) ★★★ (1986 Comedy) Nick Nolte, Richard Dreyfuss. A neurotic California family's reasonably complacent life is rudely interrupted by a vagrant who tries to drown himself in their pool. (Adult Language, Adult Situations, Nudity) [103 min.] [TMC-E] G1, 10 (12:00a).

The Horse Soldiers ★★★ (1959 Adventure) John Wayne, William Holden. The Union cavalry drives toward Louisiana amidst personal conflicts between the officers on the subject of war. [150 min.] [KTVT] F4, 3 (9:00p).

Jaws (PG) ★★★½ (1975 Suspense) Roy Scheider, Robert Shaw. Based on Peter Benchley's novel. A great white shark terrorizes the waters off a coastal resort, though tourism-conscious town officials refuse to believe any real danger exists. [150 min.] [WGN] G1, 3 (8:00p).
